Engaged to Marine Captain

Lynda to be December Bride

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House wedding in early the December is planned for Lynda Bird Johnson and Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, who met the president's daughter in the line of duty. Smiling, holding hands, the young couple flew back from Texas Sunday night aboard the presidential jet plane after President and Mrs. Johnson anounced the engagement from Lynda, 23, the Johnson's older daughter, showed off her sparkling diamond engagement ring, and broke an engagement to a young Navy lieutenant three years ago.

Lynda, a tall, slender, dark-haired young man from Milwaukee, the surprise announcement of Lynda's engagement ended continued speculation over the romantic interest of the president's daughter. She had numerous beaux through the years, and broke an engagement to a young Navy lieutenant three years ago.

Until Robb came along, Lynda had been dating Hollywood actor George Hamilton more than anyone else.

Robb, who plans to make the Marines his career and is scheduled to go to Vietnam in February, first met Lynda a little more than a year ago when he was assigned to the White House as a military social aide. She called on him to make a fourth at bridge for a third floor solarium card game.

They didn't start dating steadily, though, until the past four months.

There was excitement and happiness in the Johnson family over Lynda's news, and her younger sister, Luci, 20, now Mrs. Patrick J. Nugent and mother of an 11-week son, shared it.

All Knew Secret The whole family, including the Nugents and Robb, went to St. David's Episcopal Church in Austin, Tex., Sunday morning. They all knew the secret then, since Robb had given Lynda an engagement ring Saturday night—a center diamond flanked by two smaller diamonds.

U.S. Bombers Wreck Third Largest Seaport

Target North Of Haiphong Was Immune

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes delivered a smashing blow Sunday at Cam Pha in North Vietnam and pilots reported they all but knocked out that port, used to export coal to pay for arms from abroad. It was the first raid on Cam Pha, previously on the Pentagon's restricted list and North Vietnam's third largest port.

Aground, U.S. Marines outnumbered 4 to 1 beat back 3,000 North Vietnamese who apparently were trying to cut off their supply base at Con Thien near the demilitarized zone. The U.S. Command said at least 141 enemy troops were killed. Marine losses were 34 killed and 185 wounded.

Until the raid Sunday, the port of Cam Pha north of the main major one at Haiphong, had been immune from attack although antiaircraft sites on its outskirts were blasted in June. That was when pilots strafed the Soviet merchant ship Turkistan in Cam Pha harbor.

Striking deep into North Vietnam, Air Force planes ran into MIG17s. One Communist jet was probably downed by an F105 Thunderchief pilot, who said it flipped over and vanished after his cannon fire ripped into its wings.

Marine forces today were sweeping the bloody field 4½ miles south of the demilitarized zone where they hit the North Vietnamese regiment Sunday night.

Safety Forces Accept Contract

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Striking police and firemen accepted a city wage offer Monday, ending a five-day strike that kept most of Youngstown's safety forces off the job.

The vote was almost unanimous by police and firemen. The offer, made earlier Monday, was an immediate increase of $25 a month and an additional $74 a month if an income tax levy is approved by voters in December.

Failure of the tax levy would mean reopening of wage talks after the first of next year.

Hurricane's Toll Now 16

Haiti, Cuba Brace for Beulah

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Beulah battered the southern coast of the Dominican Republic with 125-mile-an-hour killer winds today and aimed her fury westward toward the voodoo island of Haiti, most heavily populated country in the Western Hemisphere.

More than 1,000 persons in the Dominican Republic's Barahona Peninsula fled the advancing storm, blamed for 16 deaths in the eastern Caribbean.

There was no immediate word from the peninsula, where hurricanes bring traditional flooding. More than a dozen persons lost their lives there last year when Hurricane Inez swept through.

Across Peninsula Forecasters in Miami said Beulah's westward course would take her across the peninsula on a route that would carry her parallel with Haiti's Massif du Nord mountain range.

At 10 a.m., EDT, Beulah's calm eye was located over the Barahona Peninsula at Latitude 17 8 North, Longitude 71 6 West or about 70 miles southeast of Port Au Prince, Haiti and some 650 miles southeast of Miami.

Weathermen also kept track of Hurricane Chloe and Hurricane Doria in the Atlantic.

Doria, off the Virginia Capes, was plotted near Latitude 36 2 North, Longitude 72 0 West. Chloe, far out to sea, was put near Latitude 26 5 North, Longitude 47 0 West.

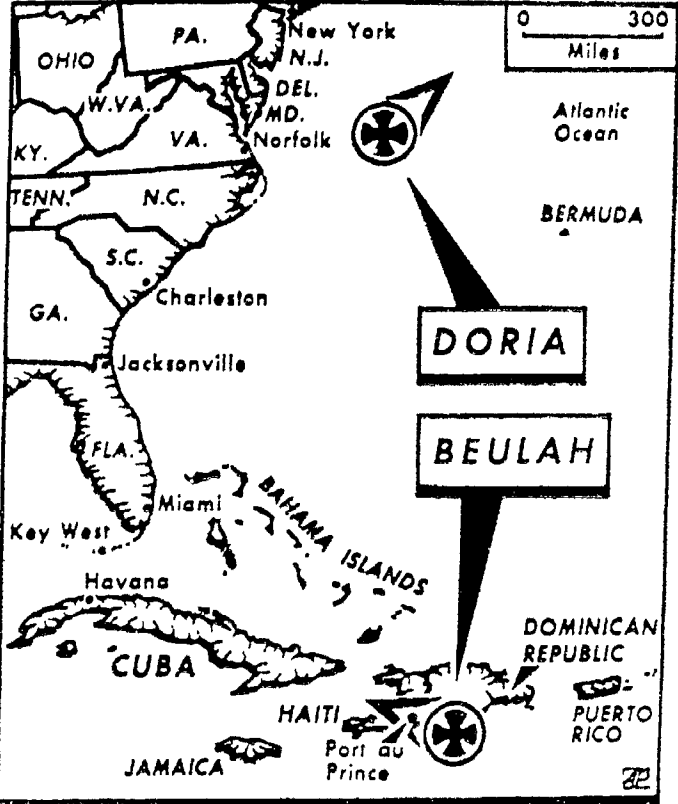

"Heavy rains and massive flooding are certainly in store for Haiti and these are the things that can cause deaths," said Dr. Robert H. Simpson of the National Hurricane Center at Miami. "This storm definitely will give Haiti a lot of trouble."

Dr. Simpson said wind currents near the mountain range could easily sweep the massive storm across the range, and into Haiti's narrow valleys, causing them to flood.

Residents in Haiti and along the southern Coast of Eastern Cuba were warned to take immediate precautions against flooding and storm tides up to eight feet above normal.

Dr. Simpson said Beulah would probably either pass by or across the Haitian peninsula during the evening.

In either case, her winds

'Let's Go to the North Side'

Milwaukee Police Use Gas To Disperse Riotous Whites

By KEN HARTNETT MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hundreds of residents of the virtually all-white South Side were scattered by repeated rounds of police tear gas Sunday night in a near riotous aftermath to a Negro open housing march.

"Let's go to the North Side," shouted South Side youths milling along what they mistakenly believed would be the route of the Negro marchers. "North, North!"

Police who tried to persuade the throngs to disperse were pelleted with wood, bottles and bricks. They retaliated with tear gas, firing down residential streets after whites who retreated there.

"Nigger lovers," the residents shouted at police. "You protect them but you won't protect us."

The 2,500 marchers, who had taken a different route through the South Side in a 14th straight day of demonstrations, were already back at their headquarters in the nearly all-Negro North Side when the white uprising started. Nineteen persons were arrested and three were injured before it was over.

Only minor incidents had occurred during the open housing march, held under heavy police guard.

Form Parade After a series of tear gas attacks, about 500 youths finally formed a parade line. Police allowed half the group to move along the way across a viaduct leading out of the South Side. At the end of the viaduct, police stopped the march cold with a show of force, and persuasion.

This is the South Side, the good side of town," an officer told the would-be marchers. "Let's keep it that way." "If the niggers can march, why can't we?" the South Side straight ers asked. "It's common sense," an exasperated sergeant said. "They'd get torn up over there (the North Side). I don't want a big problem than we already have."

The Negro marchers had just disappeared over the viaduct after the largest civil rights demonstration in the city's history when the trouble flared along a South Side business street about two miles away.

Residents refused at first to believe police assertions that the Negro marchers were not coming through their neighborhood. "Listen to your radios if you don't believe me," one offi- cer said. "They're back on the North Side."

Firecrackers began to explode. The crowd took up the chant. "We want Groppi," a reference to the white Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. James E. Groppi, who is leading the Negro demonstrations. Father Groppi, son of Italian immigrants, was born and raised on the South Side.

A plump woman in a blue dress and gold slippers began dancing in the street. "Tell them niggers to leave town, someone shouted.

A young man began trying to form a line of marchers for the North Side. A man in a checkered work shirt, his gray hair close cropped, walked uncertainly into the intersection.

"Clear that intersection," a police officer yelled.

Curbside Struggle Police moved toward the man and the woman in blue. There was a struggle at curbside. Rocks flew toward police. Squads of officers in gas masks rushed forward and began firing gas canisters into the crowd.

When the smoke had cleared, the man in the checkered shirt was unconscious on a curb. The woman in blue was crying hysterically.

"I hate everyone of you cops. I hate niggers. I hate them. I hate them from the top to the bottom. I hate them. I hate them," she sobbed. Asked what she was doing on the street, she said, "I'm here because I'm Polish."

Teachers, Students Skip N.Y. Classes

NEW YORK (AP) — Most of the city's 55,000 public school teachers refused to report for the opening of the fall term today in a contract dispute with the board of education. A school spokesman said the action 90 per cent effective.

The schools opened anyway, but many of the pupils stayed home. The teachers, by secret balloting Sunday, had voted 12,333 to 2,523 to reject a $125-million two-year contract.

Albert Shanker, president of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, called it a mass resignation rather than a strike.

Shanker said the children who went to school were watching movies or listening to recorded music in auditoriums and cafeterias.

The union official said he had 38,000 resignations ready to turn in, but would not do so until the

Strike Halts Long Island Commuters

NEW YORK (AP) — Engineers staged a wildcat work stoppage against the Long Island Rail Road today, all but halting service on the nation's busiest commuter railroad and turning Long Island into what one policeman described as "one big parking lot."

Normally about 200 trains haul 90,000 commuters from Long Island into Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens between 5 a.m. and 9 a.m., and out again at the evening rush hour. In addition, the railroad carries another 80,000 riders during the nonrush-hour period.

Fewer than 20 trains operated this morning, and a railroad spokesman said things probably wouldn't be any better in the evening. "We are going into court for an injunction," he said, "but you can't get a railroad moving again on such short notice."

Laird Ends Support Of LBJ War Policy

Congressman Says Program Will Lead to Red Takeover

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A policy in South Vietnam last October at a seven-nation summit drew today his support of President Johnson's Vietnam policy, declaring that sooner or later it would lead to a Communist take-over in South Vietnam.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, one of the most influ-tial GOP leaders in the House, charged Johnson has moved "away from the basic objectives" of the House Republican Conference in support of U.S. actions in Vietnam.

Laird, who as chairman of the House Republican Conference is near the top of the GOP hierarchy in Congress, has criticized some aspects of Johnson's conduct of the war in the past, but before today had never voiced outright opposition. His remarks were prepared for an American Mining Congress convention.

Laird said Johnson made "a fundamental change" in U.S.

A policy in South Vietnam last October at a seven-nation summit drew today his support of President Johnson's Vietnam policy, declaring that sooner or later it would lead to a Communist take-over in South Vietnam.

A conference communique issued in Manila said the United States would withdraw its forces from South Vietnam within six months after the North Vietnamese left and violence subsided.

Charging that such a withdrawal would be "tantamount to turning South Vietnam over to the communists," Laird said Republicans had pledged their support to Johnson on the basis of his Johns Hopkins University speech in April, 1965, when he defined a free and independent South Vietnam as the basic U.S. objective.

"Manila changed all that," he said. "Republicans originally supported Johnson's Vietnam policy, but before today had never voiced outright opposition. His remarks were prepared for an American Mining Congress convention."

"If the choice is between turning South Vietnam over to the communists in 1969 or right now in 1967, we might as well do it now and prevent further American casualties."

Laird also said the administration is putting pressure on the newly elected government in South Vietnam to negotiate with the Viet Cong, a course it vigorously opposed 18 months ago when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., suggested it.

"Either Viet Cong participation in negotiations and in a subsequent government of South Vietnam is acceptable or it is not," he said. "If it is acceptable now, why was it not acceptable 18 months and more than 50,000 casualties ago?"

Congress Greeted by Huge Legislative Pile

Pending Bills Must be Disposed of Prior To Proposed Thanksgiving Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returned today from its third long 1967 vacation, eyeing a massive pile of legislation it must dispose of one way or another before final adjournment.

If it is to quit for keeps by Thanksgiving Day as its leaders now hope, it will have to do more in the next two months than it has in the past eight.

How it copes with the major jobs ahead could be determined largely by what members heard from their constituents during the two-weeks Labor Day lull. Most of them went home for grass roots soundings.

The immediate problems are relatively simple. Senate's Program The Senate's program for the week calls for consideration of an election reform bill, a compromise $70 billion defense appropriation measure and a controversial $10 billion money bill.

Malawi Breaks Tradition, Makes Ties With S. Africa KINSHASA, the Congo (AP) — Malawi broke with black African policy Sunday, on the eve of an African summit meeting, by announcing it will establish diplomatic relations with white-ruled South Africa.

"I am aware that it will cause a hullabaloo in certain quarters of Africa," said President Hastings K. Banda. "Certainly people will howl and snarl like hyenas and jackals. But where the interests of my country are concerned, I am indifferent to hullabaloo."

Banda was expected to send no representative to the meeting of the Organization of African Unity opening today in Kinshasa. Among other things the meeting is expected to produce the usual attacks on South Africa's apartheid policy of racial segregation.

It was expected to be the only one of the 38 OAU members not represented at the summit meeting.

Three big appropriation bills involving a total of about $9 billion haven't emerged from committee but must be acted on this year. Walkout in Fifth Day

UAW, Ford Officials Seek To Resume Strike Parleys

DETROIT (AP) — Bargainers for both the United Auto Workers and the Ford Motor Co. were to meet to discuss the possibility of resuming negotiations as the strike by 160,000 UAW members against Ford entered its fifth day.

There was no indication whether the get-together, termed "a kind of probing meeting" by one union source, would mean a quick return to the bargaining table.

Ken Bannon, director of the UAW's Ford Department, represents the union and Sydney F. McKenna, Ford director of labor relations, the company.

Supply Gone Earl Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer, predicted that the nation's No. 2 automaker would not be interested in serious negotiating until its supply of new cars ran out.

The company says its supply of 85,000 1968 models ready for introduction Sept. 21 will last about 30 days.

"I don't want to give the impression that we won't meet with the company for four weeks after the introduction date," Mazey said. "But there won't be pressure on the company until that time."

Some 700 people attended a rally Sunday night in Detroit's Cobo Hall sponsored by the International Society of Skilled Trades (ISST), which is attempting to lure skilled workers out of the UAW.

Plants Picketed The ISST picketed General Motors plants in Flint and Saginaw last month in an effort to make good its threat to get craftsmen out of the UAW.

Joseph Dunnebeck, ISST president, told the rally that UAW led Ford workers out on strike "so they'll get hungry; hungry enough to accept things they won't ordinarily accept."

"The only purpose of this strike is to beat down the men."

Commenting on the turnout at the rally, Dunnebeck said, "We wonder why this hall isn't full. Part of it is apathy, part of it is fear."

"People don't like to get their heads beat."

The ISST has charged that its picket lines have been disrupted by what it called "UAW goons."

The ISST has failed in several attempts to win representation elections from the National Labor Relations Board in shops organized by the UAW.

Some craftsmen in the UAW have demanded they get one dollar more an hour than non-skilled workers to put their pay in line with that of skilled workers.

men outside the industry who are represented by craft unions. Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, has included special pay increase for skilled workers in what he calls the "longest and most ambitious" list of demands ever made by the union.

The Big Three offered to negotiate on the special raise for skilled workers, but the union rejected their entire offer, which includes a 13-cent-an-hour pay increase to be improved at 2.8 per cent a year.

Substantial Increase

The UAW is also asking for a substantial wage increase, a guaranteed annual income and equal pay for Canadian workers.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss... and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women; that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

CLINTONVILLE — Gary Kapitze, secretary of the Clintonville American Legion Auxiliary, announced today that the annual "fly-in" will be held at Clintonville on Oct. 8 at 10 a.m.

Kapitze, adjutant of the Clintonville post, will be participating in the 11th consecutive "fly-in."

John Parish Forms First School Board

Group Responsible for Class Politics, Finances, Facilities

CLINTONVILLE — A parish board of the Rev. Linus Steck, pastor of St. John's Catholic church, was formed today at a meeting of St. John's parish members to coordinate the church's financial and administrative affairs.

The Rev. Steck, who will be the first president of the board, said the board will be responsible for the church's financial and administrative affairs.

Steckbauer noted that the church has been responsible for the education of parish members since 1865-1887, before the church was founded.

The school board will be responsible for operating the school facilities of the parish, including the school building and the school bus.

Miss Wisconsin Wonders Who Sent Flowers

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — It was a nice thought, and Barbara Burk Baugh would like to know whose.

Miss Baugh, of Brookfield, Wis., the Miss Wisconsin entry total of $200 and his drivers license was revoked for 13 months Friday after he changed his plea to guilty on charges of attempting to elude police and driving after his license was revoked.

A reckless driving charge was dismissed. The case was heard before Outagamie County Judge Raymond P. Dohr, after an affidavit of prejudice was brought against Judge Gustave J. Keller.

Appleton police arrested Paulson on the night of Aug. 12 following a high speed chase on near-northside streets.

Thieu Wants Americans to Do Most of Heavy Fighting

NEW YORK (AP)—American troops should handle most Vietnamese troops in the war, of the heavy fighting in Viet Nam, says South Vietnamese President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu, and South Vietnamese forces will pacify the country, side.

Thieu also said he would ask believe it is better to give the Hanoi to open peace negotiations and would suggest a pause in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam if Hanoi responded to the peace feeler. He made the statement on the NBC radio-television program "Meet the Press" which was recorded in Saigon Friday. He won the presidency in the Sept. 3 elections.

On the CBS radio-television show "Face the Nation" U.S. Ambassador to Saigon Elliot A. Richardson said he saw a possibility of negotiations in the Vietnam war before next year's U.S. presidential election.

fight erupted among low hills and thick brush. There were four Marine companies—less than 800 men at field strength—initially split into two sweeping flanks.

While the Marines called in air and artillery strikes, the Reds replied with the big 140mm Russian rockets which are among their heaviest weapons.

Rain of Fire

As dusk settled, Air Force Dragon ships lit the battered terrain with flares and kept up a blistering rain of fire from miniguns, which spew about 6,000 bullets per minute. Air observers in light spotter planes reported Communist dead stacking up in some positions during the battle. After six hours the firing faded out and pilots ranged once more along the North Vietnamese vanished into the heavy jungles a few hundred yards south of the battlefield.

Fast Figuring

The surveyor program manager, Ben Milwitsky, credited the fast-figuring engineers with saving the mission after a valve stuck and caused a loss of the helium—used to force rocket fuel into three small braking engines that help guide the de-

Milwitsky said the engineers who designed the flight pattern saved the mission by doing in 40 hours what usually takes a week of planning. He said they redesigned the mission after the helium problem cropped up. They held off firing the main retro rocket until the very last second, saving every ounce of helium possible.

Gibraltar Referendum Means Nothing to Objecting Spaniards

GIBRALTAR (AP)—The residents of the Rock went wild with joy Sunday night over the results of their referendum giving Britain a crushing, 99 per cent victory over Spain.

Only 44 of Gibraltar's 12,672 registered voters voted Sunday in favor of returning the colony to Spain after 263 years of British rule. The vote to remain a British crown colony was 12,138 and 65 ballots were thrown out for various reasons. Only 425 of the voters failed to go to the polls.

Teachers Defiant in Michigan

DETROIT (AP) — More than 4,000 striking Detroit teachers whooped and shouted their approval in a jammed union hall today when their leader vowed to strike "until the snow flies" to win pay raises and a shorter school year.

The fiery speech by Mary Ellen Riordan, president of the Detroit Federation of Teachers, came amid two other developments in the teacher strikes that have crippled education in Detroit and 24 out state school districts.

Striking teachers at Holland, across the state to the west, asked the State Supreme Court to overturn a decision by the Michigan Court of Appeals ordering them back to work.

The lower court decision Sunday could provide the key to strikes that have barred classrooms to 450,000 pupils statewide.

Gov. George Romney repeated that he has no intention of asking a special session of the State Legislature, set for Oct. 10, to consider more money for the Detroit schools.

Even chilly weather can't spoil a picnic. The cool breezes that blew Sunday afternoon forced many people to stay inside, but for Xavier High School freshmen and senior girls, temperatures were unimportant. The seniors had long ago planned their fifth annual Big Sister Little Sister picnic and weren't going to let a little cold weather stop them from having it. The event provided them with an opportunity to get to know the underclassmen and, if necessary, help them with any school type problems. Alicia Park was the setting of the afternoon event. The menu planned by the seniors consisted of sandwiches, potato chips, fruit and soda. After the meal, the girls visited and participated in games. Nancy Heimertman was chairman of the event. Susan Rougeau and Linda Karras had charge of refreshments. Melissa Hayes, entertainment, and Sara Solie, publicity.

The Sunday Picnic gave the senior and freshmen girls the opportunity to become acquainted and all the girls the chance to visit. Chatting at the event are Miss Helen Vandenberg, Miss Nancy Heimertman and Miss Lynn Karras, all seniors.

The Senior Girls of Xavier High School invited freshmen girls to their annual Big Sister Little Sister picnic Sunday afternoon at Alicia Park. Enjoying bag lunches at the event above are Kathy Fuller, senior, Barbara Hickinbottom and Miss Tally, freshmen Sara Solie, senior. After the picnic meal the girls participated in typical picnic games such as the three-legged race. Below are Sue Lohle, senior, Mary Wuerch, freshman, Katie Gage, freshman, Mary Mullen, senior, Kathy Van Groll, senior, and Jean Whitehead, freshman. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Reasoning Can Solve Problem

Today's hand is easy to play if you happen to be looking at all 52 cards. The play was harder a few weeks ago in the national tournament in Montreal; tournament players hold their cards close to the vest.

West's double of one spade was a "negative" double, used by some tournament players to show strength in the unbid suits South played at first, but then pushed on until his partner raised to game.

West's natural diamond lead gave South his chance, but first he did some close reasoning about the nature of the unseen hands.

West clearly held six hearts for his unsupported bid and rebid. East's double surely showed four trumps. West would have bid the clubs with five, so he probably held only four clubs and two diamonds.

Resists Temptation

South was tempted to lead a low spade in the hope that West's singleton trump was the eight or ten. If so, declarer would later get to dummy with the ace of clubs to lead a trump through East and limit him to two trump tricks.

Since this line of play wouldn't work if West had the three of trumps, South gave himself the extra chance of good luck in clubs. Declarer led a club to dummy's ace and cheered up when East dropped the queen. South ruffed a club next, dropping the king.

Now South could lead out the ace of trumps to draw West's singleton trump, cash a high diamond and ruff a diamond in dummy. He then led the jack of clubs from dummy, discarding the losing heart from his hand. East could get his three trump tricks, but nothing else.

Daily Question

As dealer, you hold S-A 9 7 6 5 4; H-9; D-A-K-Q-J-5; C-7. What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. The hand is not strong enough for a forcing opening bid. Despite the disparity in strength, bid the 6-card spade suit first rather than the shorter diamond suit.

She arrived by car Sunday night from Atlantic City, N.J., where she was crowned Saturday night in the windup of the Miss America Pageant.

Miss Barnes, who checked into a midtown hotel with the four ladies of her court, told newsmen she would "love to go" to Vietnam to entertain U.S. troops as her predecessor, Jane Anne Jayroe, did. There were no immediate plans for that, however.

For Research

Asked at a news conference in Atlantic City what she would do if she suddenly had $1 million, Miss America, a music major in college, said "I would buy a grand piano and donate the rest to research for multiple sclerosis."

Her mother, Mrs. Dwight Barnes, was stricken with the crippling muscle disease 11 years ago and has been bedridden in a hospital at Fort Scott, Kan., for the last 2½ years.

A spokesman at Mercy Hospital said she has had a boy friend for four months, a fellow music major at college. She declined to give his name.

Hubby Uses Poor Judgment When Struck With Drowsiness

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: For many years I tried to persuade my wife to come to Europe with me. She felt she could not keep up with the pace of a guided tour and since that was the only way I would go, I decided to make the trip alone.

I was gone 21 days and had a wonderful time. There were several couples on the tour who were my age (past 60) and many interesting widows. One widow in particular was extremely pleasant and we often sat together on the planes and enjoyed one another's company.

A few days before we were to leave for home she telephoned my room (this was in Paris) and said she was having trouble closing her suitcase. She asked if I would help. I said "yes" and went to her room. After I closed the suitcase, we visited a few minutes. She remarked that it had been an exhausting day and she was sleepy and wanted to take a nap. I said I was sleepy, too. She suggested I flop down on the other twin bed for awhile and I did.

We both dozed about 40 minutes and then I left.

When I told my wife about this harmless little incident, she flew into a rage. She insisted that I had committed adultery, that no decent woman would allow a man to sleep in her room and that no respectable man would have done such a thing.

I did not do anything wrong and my conscience is clear. My wife has been very formal ever since and I am talked out. Please give me your opinion on whether or not I am guilty of adultery — Condemned.

Dear Condemned: If all you did was take a nap in the widow's room you are not guilty of adultery. But you used very poor judgment, Dad.

The next time you are hit with a sudden attack of drowsiness, don't lie down in a widow's hotel room. Dash some cold water on your face and drag yourself to your own quarters where you belong.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Others have aired their pet peeves in your column. May I? When the phone rings I always drop everything and answer it as soon as possible. Sometimes I am

Lady Needs Help With Dog Door

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I would like to cut an opening about 10 by 12 inches in my sliding screen patio door for my dog, but I don't know how to finish off the rough edges, and attach some type of flap so insects can't enter? I thought clear heavy plastic might do, with drapery weights in the bottom. Will this do it?

A: First, simply snip enough beyond the corners of the opening so you can fold the screen back on itself. Second, anything which swings in either direction will, of course, let in nearby bugs. But more than that, the swinging door must have some leeway around the edges. So even though it's hanging down closed, there will always be open spaces for bugs. Any kind-hearted friend help us out with this one?

Q: We have both a well, and an automatic water softener in the basement, with chlorinator attached. But our water comes out blackish, with a sulphury taste and odor. Who can help me?

A: Try several sources to get the law of averages going for you. Ask the county water commissioner's office. Also ask them for the name of the nearest member of the National Well Water Association. Ask the best well-driller in the neighborhood. And, of course, have the man who installed the softening equipment come in to check its operation.

Q: Do you have a clock that chimes you awake?

Two days ago, an incredibly skilled clock doctor returned the works of a grandfather's clock, which had been left to me by my aunt several years ago. To the best of my recollection, this clock hadn't run for 25 years, maybe even more. Now it ticks beautifully. Even the moon's phases work.

But when it struck the hour—wow! I knew I'd be waking up every hour on the hour all night. So we muffled it. Not only did we wrap a Band-Aid around the clapper, but stuck another on the edge of the bell. Result: A soft, extremely pleasant chime. Wouldn't wake up a baby.

The sign comes complete with a stake for easy mounting on your lawn, or the sign may be tacked to a fence or garage.

The sign is FREE to all persons placing a "Rummage Sale" advertisement in the classified section of The Post-Crescent. Signs may be picked up at the Appleton or Neenah offices of The Post-Crescent.

Make sure your rummage sale is successful . . . with a classified ad in The Post-Crescent and your easily identifiable "Rummage Sale" sign. Yours FREE upon placing your ad.

TIPS ABOUT YOUR RUMMAGE SALE

- If three or more persons can get together for the event, so much the better. Assign persons to act as cashier while others do the selling . . . perhaps on a rotating basis.
- Be considerate of the persons who respect your privacy by adhering to the time you have set for the sale. Do not allow customers to enter and browse around ahead of this time. Answer questions about merchandise readily and honestly. Have items clearly marked. Use different colored tags so that sales may be tallied and divided correctly.
- In consideration of people who work, set your sales time for late afternoon and evenings. Make sure your merchandise is clearly displayed and easy to "rummage" through.
- After completing your plans and arrangements call 733-4411 or 722-4243 and place an ad in The Post-Crescent classified section. A competent, experienced Ad-visor will suggest the best and most economical ad for you.
- Call at The Post-Crescent for your FREE two-color "Rummage Sale" sign available to you as soon as you order your ad.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Don't Talk With Your Hands

Young ladies were once taught things about you. When they are to keep their hands folded in grubby they tattle of unattractive manners. They were warned: "Don't ever talk with your hands." It was thought very bad manners to make any sort of unnecessary manual gestures. If a teen were to follow that advice today she would seem a stiff, shy child. Yet it would be better to clench your hands in tight fists than to let them fidget with your hair or jewelry. Fidgeters really show a childish lack of poise, and drive other people crazy.

There is a vast gulf between fidgets and meaningful gestures. Punctuating a remark with a movement of the hand appears natural and charming. But do be sparing of your gestures. Wildly flapping hands divert attention from your ideas. They catch the eye, not the ear.

But, whether or not your hands are in motion, they still talk. They have a sign language of their own. When they are always allowed the plank to cool well-groomed they tell the nicest

Parents Tell Engagement Of Daughter

WEYAUWEGA — Mr. and Mrs. Gotthilf R. Ehrhardt have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Ann, to Merlyn M. Morack. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton F. Morack, Readfield.

Miss Ehrhardt, a graduate of Spencerian College, Milwaukee, is employed by the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center. Her fiancé, who attended the center, will be a junior at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

The couple will be married Sept. 30.

Fall Bride Sets Her Own Pace

Individuality is the key for the fall bride. From her hairdo to her jewelry, from her veil to her own personal style.

It should be easy for this fall's bride to choose a gown especially flattering to her, for there is a complete selection of silhouettes and necklines. As well as the A-line and empire, there is a new, very full, straight-lined cage. The fitted bodice is back, with the bell skirt and short sleeves.

Necklines range from the bateau and deep scoop to a new high neckline with a pointed V-collar.

The lovely look of lace returns, so much so as to dominate the fabric picture. Entire gowns are made of lace — with even fine wool being woven into circles of delicate beauty.

Offer Selection

There is a wide selection available for fall in bridal headpieces, from the baby cap to the mantilla. The effect of the headpiece and veil should be studied in both long-range and close-view mirrors.

Modern etiquette permits asking the bride to help select her gift of wedding jewelry. She may wish to choose a piece that specially harmonizes with her engagement ring for, like her ring, she'll treasure this for the rest of her life.

Plans Attire

In any case, she definitely will wish to consider it in planning her bridal attire.

If the jewelry gift is to be a surprise, someone who is well acquainted with the bride's taste should be asked to help select it.

Does she favor a contemporary or traditional design? Is her dream a pin, earclips or pendant? Answers to these questions provide guides to the right jewelry gift.

Right, all of us need to know hence might fail. We sometimes our limits and what the rules of the game of life are. It is those areas in which we are impossible to live without laws and regulations, much as they limit our activities. They do not make sense in a particular situation. Then it is easy to feel that the rules apply to other people rather than ourselves or to other circumstances rather than the present. How to design reasonable rules that safeguard man's well-being without unduly limiting his freedom is an age-old problem — of both church and state. Is self-doubt a major cause of tension? Yes— No—

Medical Experts Puzzled by Disease

Appleton Woman One Victim of Rare Inherited Kidney Ailment

A young Appleton woman who died unexpectedly last month, although diagnosis of the disease suffered from an extremely rare kidney disease, it was revealed last week.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said the cause of death was established following an autopsy performed at St. Elizabeth Hospital, and after consultations with University of Wisconsin medical experts in the field of kidney disorders.

The woman, who was in her early 20s, suffered from familial juvenile nephronophthisis, a renal disease which, until the mid 1960s, was unrecognized in this country and was little-known throughout the world.

Kemps, the physician who performed the autopsy and the Appleton woman's doctor learned after her death that her younger brother had died of the rare disease a few years before, and that she was being treated for the same ailment by Madison specialists.

Specialists Study Disease
Her cause of death was listed officially as "renal insufficiency due to congenital polycystic kidneys."

In 1964 five specialists from the Department of Pediatrics and Medicine, University of Wisconsin Medical School, prepared a paper for a medical publication in which they directed attention to familial juvenile nephronophthisis.

At that time, the only two suspected cases of the disease in North America were the Appleton woman and her brother, although diagnosis of the disease in the boy was not made until after he died. Only 13 cases had been reported from Europe at that time.

More Cases Reported

The doctors, in their paper, went into considerable detail on case reports of the woman and her brother. Dr. Charles C. Lobeck, UW professor of pediatrics and one of the authors of the 1964 paper, said that since the paper was published, more cases of the disease have been reported.

Kemps said he was called by the Appleton woman's local doctor shortly after she died, because a cause of death could not be immediately established.

She had been under the Appleton doctor's care only one day, and he was unaware of the exact nature of her illness — as, reportedly, was her husband.

She suffered from a bad cold for a few days before she died at her home. Kemps ordered a post-mortem examination to determine cause of death.

A short time later, the woman's Madison specialist, upon hearing of her death, informed her Appleton doctor and the pathologist of her kidney disease.

Growth Retarded

Research by a Post-Crescent reporter who contacted two University of Wisconsin specialists who had worked on the woman's case and had helped prepare the 1964 paper on familial juvenile nephronophthisis revealed further information.

Dr. Lobeck explained that most pronounced symptoms of the disease are growth retardation starting at an early age, "large thirst," and "tremendous urine volume." He said the disease "smolders along" until the deteriorating kidneys fail.

Dr. Lobeck said the disease, which is "just starting to be described," seems to be hereditary, although the genetics still have not been completely worked out.

The disease has been known in Europe for some time, and is apparently was most prevalent in the Scandinavian countries, Switzerland and Germany.

Symptoms Similar

Dr. Lobeck indicated that some cases of familial juvenile nephronophthisis probably have been diagnosed as other renal diseases — such as chronic nephritis or chronic Bright's disease.

The case study of the deceased Appleton woman, who had no children, shows that she was admitted to the UW children's hospital at the age of 16 when her parents became alarmed because she started displaying the same symptoms as her brother who had died. The father reportedly was of Scandinavian descent.

Dr. Lobeck said that the disease, which is incurred during childhood, is thought to be "generally fatal in the first 20 years of life." However, specialists reportedly had been "encouraged" by treatment response by the Appleton woman.

She reportedly had been considered for a kidney transplant.

Dr. John M. Opitz, also an author of the 1964 paper on familial juvenile nephronophthisis, said he had been involved in a genetical study of the dead woman's family in an attempt to determine how the ailment is inherited.

Dr. Opitz said the disease is becoming "more well known to kidney experts."

Today in History

Today is Monday, Sept. 11, the 234th day of 1967. There are 111 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1814, an American fleet scored a decisive victory over the British in the Battle of Lake Champlain in the War of 1812.

On this date In 1777, Gen. George Washington's forces were defeated in the Battle of Brandywine, near Wilmington, Del., during the revolutionary War.

In 1850, singer Jenny Lind, disease "smolders along" until called "the Swedish Nightingale", gave her first American concert at Castle Garden in New York.

In 1862, the short story writer O. Henry—William Sydney Porter—was born in Greensboro, N.C.

In 1940, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the British to be prepared for an attempted German invasion.

In 1941, Charles A. Lindbergh told an America First rally in Des Moines the United States was being pushed into war by the British, the Jews and the Roosevelt administration.

In 1963, segregation ended at the University of South Carolina as three Negroes were enrolled without incident.

Ten years ago—The Soviet Union accused Turkey of deploying troops along the Syrian border in preparation for an attack.

Five years ago -- President John F. Kennedy began an inspection tour of U.S. space installations.

One year ago — There was a large turnout in South Vietnam to elect a Constituent Assembly.

Rehearsals to Begin Monday for Valley Symphony Orchestra

MENASHA — Rehearsals for the Fox Valley Symphony Orchestra's 1967-68 season will start at 7:30 p.m. today at the Fine Arts Theater of the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center here.

The orchestra is expanding its third season program to three concerts, all in Lawrence Chapel. The first is scheduled Oct. 22, followed by a second performance Feb. 4 and a spring concert May 12.

Robert Below will solo in the first concert and Mrs. Lucy Baicher Heiberg will solo in the second. Both are members of the Lawrence Conservatory faculty.

Karlos Moser, of the University of Wisconsin, orchestra conductor, has invited area musicians to participate as there are vacancies created by players who have left and the orchestra hopes to expand.

Michigan Bans Miniskirts On Employees

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Hems hiked higher. Eyebrows zipper up. The boom fell. Michigan's Department of State has banned miniskirts on employees.

"We feel justified in asking that eyebrows were lifted" that they not wear so-called abbreviated miniskirts," said James F. Hueni Jr., personnel director for Secretary of State James M. Hare.

"I understand these things are distracting to some men," he said.

Hueni said both male and female workers objected when two or three girls showed up at the office in "skirts so short

Bounty Money Now Goes Into Park Projects

Calumet Finds New Use for State Conservation Funds

No longer is there a price on the tail of a fox in Calumet County. Money formerly paid out in bounties is being used for park improvements at Calumet and Freitag Memorial Park at Forest Junction.

Under the state incentive aid program, 50 per cent of the cost will be paid by the State Conservation Department.

At Forest Junction, the Civic League is seeking to raise the difference in funds spent after the $265 allowed by the state has been used.

Improvements there include cutting paths three feet wide and a mile long in the 23-acre park which is used as a wildlife sanctuary and preserved in natural state.

Prickly ash from the park is being removed. Work must be completed by Dec. 27. Mrs. Viola Walker and Mrs. Lester Keller are in charge of the project.

Plan Nature Trails

At Calumet County Park nature trails have been laid out and work will begin after the camping season. Maps also have been printed. Total expenditure is $1,411 with 50 per cent available from the state.

Also included is the extension of the fishing pier and boating dock. These are estimated to

Neenah Woman Hurt in Collision

Lois J. Rankin, 145 Andrew St., Neenah, was taken by ambulance to Theda Clark Hospital, Neenah, for treatment of a head injury she suffered when her car and one driven by Harold C. Adams, 52, 1400 W. Cedar St., collided about 6 p.m. Friday at Lawrence and State Streets.

Appleton police said Adams was southbound on State Street and was coming up to a stop sign when his foot slipped from the brake pedal and struck the accelerator, causing his auto to go through the stop sign and collide with the eastbound Rankin car.

Russian Literature Received at Institute

Additional Russian technical and scientific literature will be received by the library of The Institute of Paper Chemistry as the result of an agreement between the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry and the Academy of Science of the United Soviet Socialist Republics.

The agreement calls for an exchange of certain publications, with the Russian publications being sent to the Institute library.

Cost $80 for trenching of the pier and $320 for concrete.

The Calumet County Park Commission agreed to inform contractors at its Aug. 23 meeting.

Some counties continue to use their share of state funds to finance predator bounties, but like Calumet, others are using the funds to help finance projects they feel are more in keeping with conservation.

Police Detain AWOL Soldier From Menasha

An 18-year-old Menasha soldier, absent without leave from Fort Riley, Kan., since last May, was taken into custody by an Appleton police patrolman who spotted him in what apparently was a stolen car Friday afternoon.

The Army private is being held in the city jail. Police are conferring with military authorities, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and Outagamie County police. The 1954 Ford the youth was driving reportedly was stolen about three weeks ago from the Country Aire Tavern on W. Spencer Street in the Town of Grand Chute.

The patrolman spotted the car turning onto Calumet Street from Oneida Street about 4:30 p.m. He stopped the auto at Calumet and Jefferson streets. The youth at first gave police a false name, but the patrolman found proper military identification while searching the youth.

Trial Set for Men On Bad Check Charge

Bonds totaling $700 were set Friday afternoon for Benjamin Guyette, 47, 3000 W. Wisconsin Ave., who pleaded innocent to two counts of issuing worthless checks.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller set trial for 9 a.m. Sept. 28. Guyette is in jail in lieu of posting bond.

He allegedly cashed $78 and $85 checks July 19 and 20, respectively, at Fleet Wholesale Supply Co., 3215 W. Wisconsin Ave.

The "Wait Control" Problem.

What we're doing to eliminate "waits" when you call us.

If you've ever had to wait when you called us, we're genuinely sorry you couldn't get through.

Would you believe during an average week we receive over 3,000 telephone calls from groups and individual subscribers, asking questions about benefits, claims, rates and other features of Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection? In addition, there are hundreds of calls concerning Medicare.

Now... we've done something to ease matters a lot.

We've built and staffed a brand new Customer Service Center.

The "electronic heart" of this new Center is a specially built Automatic Call Distributor capable of handling many incoming calls at one time. When your call comes in, many little lights flash as the system "hunts" for an open telephone line. Within seconds, your call is distributed to one of 23 specially trained telephone interviewers.

What it all adds up to is this: When you call Blue Cross and Blue Shield, your call will now go through faster than ever before.

You'll get your questions answered quickly, correctly and courteously.

Eventually visual display terminals will be connected via closed-circuit TV to the Blue Cross Computer Center. This will enable the interviewer to have a particular subscriber's records appear on the screen within a fraction of a second to answer a specific question. Our ultimate goal is "instant service."

Whether you're in charge of a group or an individual member of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, we know you will be pleased with our new, growing communications system. Its only purpose is to serve you better.

Open Housing Put on Agenda For Alliance

Appleton Meeting To Suggest Bills For State Legislature

The Alliance of Cities will be asked to dump the ticklish open housing issue into the lap of the Wisconsin Legislature when representatives of more than 20 cities meet here Sept. 21-22, it was learned today.

Movement for a strong open housing law has resulted in marches, demonstrations and riots in the Milwaukee area in recent weeks.

Wisconsin presently has an open housing law but it does not encompass the area of single family residential housing and has been under heavy criticism from civil rights leaders.

Mayor George Buckley disclosed he received a long distance telephone call from Mayor Otto Festge of Madison this morning, indicating that open housing would be put on the Alliance agenda. Festge is president of the Alliance.

State Basis
Buckley said Festge informed him the Alliance would be asked to adopt recommendations which would call upon the state Legislature to deal with open housing laws on a statewide basis "rather than get piecemeal laws in various cities".

Festge was referring to the situation at Milwaukee where the city administration has advocated an open housing law, provided that many of the suburbs and county board go along with the same type of legislation.

Mayor Henry Maier, Milwaukee, has taken the position if Milwaukee were the only community to adopt a tight open housing ordinance in that metropolitan area, it would result in an exodus of whites to the suburbs.

Maier's chief complaint has been that the central city has had to carry the sociological and economic burden created by the "iron ring," his description for suburbs.

Pre-empted Field
An opinion this morning by the Milwaukee city attorney indicated Milwaukee nor any other city had the power to enact an open housing ordinance because the state has already pre-empted the field.

While civil rights leaders from the Milwaukee area have appeared in the Fox Cities, including controversial Rev. James Groppi, and advocated opening housing — no Fox Valley cities are considering such local ordinance at this time.

The Alliance will be meeting next week at the Conway Motor Hotel.

Youth Buys Cycle With Stolen Cash

Teen-Ager Purchases Bike From Firm Involved in Theft

One of two youths who admitted stealing $350 from Harley Davidson Sales, 2125 N. Richmond St. Aug. 18, told detectives he used some of the money to make payments on a motorcycle he had purchased from the firm.

The two boys, ages 16 and 17, who are presently under welfare supervision and making restitution on 13 burglaries, from last year, also have admitted recent burglaries at Timmers Printing Co., on Perkins Street in the Town of Grand Chute, and at Jahnke Wrecking Co., 1047 Valley Road, Menasha.

$1,200 Burglary
The 17-year-old boy earlier was indicted by Appleton police for his part in the $1,200 burglary at Dag-Mar's Drive-In, 1309 E. Wisconsin Ave., on Sept. 2. Two other boys also took part in that burglary.

Police said none of the money from the Harley Davidson Sales burglary was recovered. What wasn't spent on motorcycle payments, went for "entertainment," police were told. Some checks taken from the firm were thrown from the Lawe Street bridge into the Fox River.

About $75 in a metal box was taken during the Timmers burglary last July, and about $8 and cigarettes were stolen during the burglary at Jahnke's about two months ago.

Investigation is continuing, detectives said today.

Kaukauna Man Gets Cut in Auto Mishap

KAUKAUNA — Clayton Frank, 26, 720 High St., suffered a cut over his left eye about 2:30 a.m. Sunday when the car he was driving north on Crooks Avenue, was struck by a vehicle driven by Leonard Barth, 24, 721 N. Morrison St., Appleton.

Police issued Barth a citation for failure to yield right-of-way when he pulled from a stop sign on 10th Street, colliding with the Frank vehicle.

HUD Wants Planners Advice On Addition to Water Plant

Former City Engineer Dies

Lloyd M. Schindler Headed Appleton Department 25 Years

Former city engineer, Lloyd M. Schindler, 77, died at 2:30 a.m. Sunday. Schindler was Appleton city engineer for 25 years prior to his retirement in 1954. Since that time he has been a resident of St. Petersburg, Fla.

Schindler was born in Leola, S.D., and raised in Monroe, Wis. He received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin and his master of science degree from Cornell College, Ithaca, N.Y.

Civic Leader
He taught at the University of Wisconsin until 1920, when he moved to Appleton. Schindler was a member of 1935 the Masonic Blue Lodge, Monroe; the Elks Club, St. Petersburg; the Knights of Pythias, Appleton; United Commercial Travelers; Claire 43, Beloit 44, La Crosse; and the First and Appleton 45, Park Falls 46, and Appleton 49.

Survivors include his widow, three sons, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Private funeral services will be held from the Wichmann Funeral Home with the Rev. Dr. John Gieser officiating. Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery, Monroe.

A memorial fund is being established for the Congregational Church.

Buckley Gets Notification in Letter From Federal Official

Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) officials at the federal agency's regional office in Chicago are awaiting reports of regional and state planning groups on Appleton's water expansion plans. Recently, HUD officials in Washington notified U.S. Senator Gaylord Nelson (D-Wis.) the request for federal funds for a regional administrator for the Lake Winnebago pipeline had been approved. Previously, Mayor George Buckley in a letter today that once recommendations are received then final consideration will be given to a grant request for the city's water treatment plant addition.

Mercury Flirts With Low Records
The mercury which flirted with the freezing mark in Appleton over the weekend, broke a 32-year Fox Cities record when it hit a low of 38 during Saturday night. Previous recorded low was 41 degrees in 1935.

Madison had a chilling 35 degrees early this morning. Loneburg reported 36, Green Bay 37, Burlington 39, Wausau 40, Eau Claire 43, Beloit 44, La Crosse 45, Appleton 45, Park Falls 46, and Appleton 49.

Current Opinion
He said as a result of the discussion, his office was in the process of contacting state officials and the various regional planning groups to obtain a current opinion as to which is the best and proper long term program for water resources for the City of Appleton.

Bruder said as soon as information is received, his office will be in a position to make a decision. He said the review is now underway on the regional level according to Bruder. "We have delayed the various instructions that we usually send after notification of a fund reservation (pipeline grant approval $893,000) because of the question you have raised with regard to expansion of the treatment plant," Bruder wrote.

Appleton Will Testify On Bills for Cities

Assembly Considering Nine Bills

Representatives of Wisconsin's cities, including Appleton, will be in Madison Wednesday to testify before an Assembly committee considering bills aimed at helping solve urban problems.

At least nine of the proposals have been submitted on behalf of the City of Milwaukee, with several teeing-in with the program of the Alliance of Cities, a statewide organization.

Mayor George Buckley said today he would be unable to attend the hearing, but would request City Atty. David Geenen and City Planner Walter Rasmussen to do so.

Speed Study
One of the bills would have the Legislature call upon a special task force, headed by Dr. Curtis Tarr of Appleton, to speed its study of shared tax formulas, annexation laws and local governmental structure.

Tarr's committee is supposed to report back to the Legislature in 1969, but the pending bill would ask for the report before the end of the 1968 legislative year.

Other bills, backed by 22 of the state's larger cities, which will be up for hearing this week relate to:

—Having the Tarr task force make recommendations on what exemptions should be removed or which property should be subjected to a local service charge in lieu of taxes. (Appleton has more than $100 million in non-taxable property which does not appear on the municipal rolls due to state law exemption.)

—Create a division of urban renewal in the department of local affairs and development to administer state payment of 50 per cent of the local costs of urban renewal projects.

Freeze Aids
—Freeze highway aids on the present distribution formula and distribute the growth in funds on the basis of vehicle registrations rather than on the number of miles of road.

—Increase the state property tax relief to 10 per cent of the total property taxes in the state.

—Revise Wisconsin's annexation laws to assist the cities so they can expand in an orderly manner.

Youth Injured When Car, Motorbike Collide

Lee M. Ellenbecker, 17, 553 N. Division St. was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital by ambulance after he was injured when his motorbike and a car collided about 6:50 p.m. Sunday at W. Franklin and N. Superior Streets.

Appleton police said that Ellenbecker suffered cuts and bruises.

He was eastbound on Franklin when a car driven by Leland M. Thyssen, 32, 309 W. College Ave. turned in front of him while making a left turn.

Resolution to be Submitted

County Board Will be Asked for $265,000 to Add to New Runway

A resolution will be introduced at the Sept. 20 meeting of the Outagamie County Board to approve the second big cost item for the county airport within the past month.

The board's airport committee has drawn up a resolution asking for $265,000 in county funds to add a 500 extension onto the northeast-southwest runway now under construction.

The new runway will be a 200 feet long and 150 feet wide. Recently the county was notified that the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) has awarded a $143,800 grant to help pay for extending the new runway to 6,500 feet.

The new request would be for make the runway 7,000 feet long and capable of handling large jet aircraft.

The added county appropriation would go along with the $143,800 already approved by the FAA and $30,000 in anticipated state aid for the extension.

The county board last month approved a $75,000 appropriation to increase the new runway's thickness by one and two inches in various stress points. Along with the extension of the new runway, the apron area is being enlarged and a parallel taxiway is being constructed.

4 Seriously Hurt in Crash
Both Cars Involved In Accident Near Appleton Destroyed

Four Appleton youths were seriously injured in the nearly head-on crash early Sunday night of a sports car and another vehicle at Outagamie County trunk 00 and N. a mile and a half northwest of Appleton.

Taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital in two of Larry's ambulances were Steven J. Mattison, 17, 2226 N. Casaloma Drive, driver of one car, his sister, Gwendolyn, 16, same address, Charles S. Young, 22, 413 Church St., Neenah driver of the other car, and James Potter, 20, 1006 E. Lindbergh St., Appleton owner of the car Young was driving.

Although complete details as to the injuries were not known this morning, it was learned that Young has two broken legs in addition to multiple lacerations, bruises and abrasions, and Potter has two and leg cuts.

Mattison and his sister both sustained multiple cuts and other undetermined injuries.

Outagamie County police said the Mattison car was westbound on 00 and the 1967 sports car driven by Young was eastbound. Police said the Young car crossed into the lane of the Mattison auto. Both cars were demolished.

County police said the truck was driven by Robert R. Stotmeister, 32, Strafford. He told police he was eastbound on 10 and saw three horses coming at him when he reached the crest of a hill. He struck two of the horses, owned by Tom McHugh of Appleton and Ed Hertzfeldt of route 1, Fremont.

Police said there was about $200 damage to the truck.

Alcoholism Cost $3.3 Million in '66

BY FERN SMITH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
Based on a 3-year study, cost of alcoholism in Outagamie, Winnebago and Waupaca counties during 1966 can be figured to total some $3.3 million.

This amount includes expenses for treatment, loss of wages to alcoholics, relief payments and jail costs.

It does not include the non-dollar costs in human degradation, loss of productivity to industry or the impact on state and local tax rolls.

During the past three years, 35 men were treated from Outagamie County for alcoholism for varying lengths of time in mental hospitals. The average cost per day is $23, which meant a total cost to the county, city or private agency of $26,150.

Studies show this represents 10 per cent of the total number of alcoholics in Outagamie County, and this means there are 350 today, going without any kind of care.

Figure Cost
According to the American Journal of Public Health, the average cost for an untreated alcoholic is an annual loss of $2,500; relief payments average $600 for his dependents.

Ten of Waupaca County's 100 were treated at a cost of $6,900. They cost the economy $340,000 long the lot will be closed.

A year ago the area was graded and graveled, laying the treatment at the cost of $42,780, groundwork for paving but the cost of the lost earnings of 620 alcoholics was estimated at $2,108,000 last year.

In comparison, the price tag to the taxpayer for two pending bills to deal with alcoholism is $14 million.

Bill 664, A, which is to be heard before the Assembly's Public Welfare Committee at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday and Bill 359 S, to be heard at 1 p.m. Sept. 21, before the Senate's Public Welfare Committee, are companion bills.

Free Parking Ends Tonight On City Lot

More than 125 motorists enjoying free parking at the unsurfaced city-owned triangle of land near Division and Washington Streets will be out of luck Tuesday.

The entire area is being barricaded tonight so city crews can move in early Tuesday and start applying a backstop surface.

A complete municipal parking lot will be marked off to hold an estimated 75 vehicles, and motorists will be installed in the near future.

Department of public works officials did not indicate how long the lot will be closed.

cent funding for development of a comprehensive range of services by a county or multi-purpose group.

Bill 359 S, is geared to help local counties, cities, towns and villages or non-profit organizations, and can mean immediate action. It contains a 40 per cent cost-sharing plan.

Prevention, early referral, information, trained staff treatment, rehabilitation, counseling services and inpatient and outpatient care are provided in the two bills.

"The alcoholic presents a vastly different set of problems to the medical profession and requires a highly specialized kind of treatment by all professionals," James Ray, director of the Milwaukee Council on Alcoholism, explained to a multiple county group of agency workers studying the problem.

Fox Valley Needs
In this tri-county area the needs are explained by Dr. George Lysloff, director of the Winnebago State Hospital.

"Money is important, of course, but only because a great deal needs to be done to really help the alcoholic," he said. "There are as many erroneous beliefs about the illness of alcoholism as there are sick alcoholics, and these beliefs keep them from getting help as much as lack of funds."

Dr. Lysloff, who heads a unit serving 27 counties in Eastern Wisconsin, reports that 28.7 per cent of the state hospital admissions today are for alcoholism, and the percentage is mounting

Set in Conference

Local War Against Pollution Launched by Fond du Lac Men

FOND DU LAC — On Tuesday seven men will sit down at a conference table to start drawing up a total plan to stop Lake Winnebago pollution in the Fond du Lac area. Ultimately, the plan will involve all elements of the community.

The seven men will make-up a new committee which results from a city pollution study finished almost eight months ago. It will be the first meeting of the committee, and it will be the first attempt to organize total war on all of the causes of pollution that have menaced the lake's waters.

The city's study listed the general causes of pollution and recommended the composition of the committee. It consists of three elected representatives from the city and three from the county and Dr. H. J. Kief, city health officer.

The report was completed in January, but appointments to the committee were not made until this summer.

Need Much Help

Dr. Kief said this week that it is going to require total community involvement to get something done and he plans to enlist the help of civic clubs, service clubs, governments and the general public.

Dr. Kief said. The success of the total program depends upon efficient administration and organization. Detailed comprehensive plans must be drawn up so that all aspects of the problem will be considered and corrected. These plans must be made not only so that the problem is solved for today, but projected into the future.

Pollution in Fond du Lac has a variety of sources, according to the report, but specific means to combat them have not been worked out. Meanwhile pollution has worsened.

Creek Contributes

In the report Dr. Kief listed causes of pollution within the city limits as industrial wastes, storm sewer by-passes and sanitary sewer cross-overs and the sewage treatment plant.

He conceded that some of the lake's pollution was coming from the waters flowing into the river and ultimately into Lake Winnebago. One of these sources was DeNevue Creek, which extends several miles into the county.

Some of the pollution in the creek was traced to South Hills Country Club. The club's board has decided to annex to the city and will receive sewer service.

Several businesses in the Town of Fond du Lac south of the city have been closed because they are polluting the river. The state has ordered the township to abate its own pollution. Both the towns of Fond du Lac and Taycheedah, have been holding public hearings on possible solutions to their problems.

A Wetland Swamp?

Another form of pollution is silting. The U. S. Soil Conservation Service had discovered that in the last 20 years, the average depth of Lake Winnebago has decreased by four feet. This could mean that in a few years, perhaps just one

Cyclist Slightly Hurt in Mishap

KIMBERLY — Norbert Hartzheim, 36, route 1, Menasha, escaped with a bruised shoulder and back when he was thrown from his motorcycle in front of a car driven by Paul J. Vandenberg, 37, 912 W. Commercial St., Appleton, about 5:35 p.m. Sunday.

According to police, Vandenberg was following a car which turned from Maes Avenue onto S. Wilson Street. Vandenberg did not see the approaching cyclist and started to make a similar turn. Hartzheim applied the brakes on his bike, police said, was thrown from the vehicle and landed against the front wheels of the Vandenberg car.

He was treated by a doctor at the scene of the accident and released.

Appleton Water Plans Receive State Approval

One state regulatory agency department of Resource Development has given Appleton's water expansion plans "informal approval" and word from another is expected soon, it was learned today.

A water department spokesman confirmed recently that the Resource Development agency has sent a letter of approval, behalf of the City of Appleton, while the certificate is being applied to the State Public Service Commission (PSC) for a certificate of approval.

The PSC has to check out the ramifications of the city conducting a hearing structing an intake line about on the city's plans for a water 1,000 feet out into Lake Winnebago, but water, a certificate of approval then suggested the water control is required before the project division of the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources can get underway.

U.S. 41 Interchange Set For Planning This Winter

Neenah Crossing Cost Hiked To an Estimated $750,000

NEENAH — The Cecil Street - because of the other two interchanges, scene of changes (State 150 and State 114) were relatively close to months, including a fatality 10 days ago, will undergo corrective action — at least on the planning boards — this winter and a 30-foot zone free of permanent obstructions, would apply in the new design, Empey said.

LeRoy Empey, state highway district engineer, said this morning the preliminary sketches developed for the diamond interchange at Cecil several years ago will be updated and definite plans will be drawn in the coming months to prepare the project for the 1969 fiscal year, which begins July 1, 1968.

"Sometime next year, we hope to get our teeth into the whole business," Empey said. "We will design it this winter, period!" he added.

The interchange design will comply with new federal standards for interchanges, Empey stated, but he declined to predict the actual design.

The preliminary sketches called for a half diamond with entrances and exits to the south on U.S. 41. The cost was estimated at $653,000 in 1965 but Empey said increased construction costs would boost this amount to $750,000 by the time work begins next year.

He said the project probably wouldn't be a full interchange

New federal standards, calling for 6 to 1 slopes in some areas and a 30-foot zone free of permanent obstructions, would apply in the new design, Empey said.

It will be an interchange "based on the 1970 model" instead of the 1960 specifications, he stated.

Wayne Bryan, Neenah public works director, said he would meet with Empey to discuss a proposal to build an access roadway on the east side of U.S. 41 to route traffic to the Winnebago Avenue interchange.

According to the preliminary sketches which provide for exit and entrance only on the southbound lanes, the northbound traffic would have to use Green Bay Road to get onto the highway at Winnebago Avenue.

Bryan has felt Green Bay Road would be congested with traffic developed by commercial activity and suggested a frontage road be mapped on the east side of U.S. 41, between Cecil and Winnebago.

Meanwhile, citizens living west of U.S. 41 are reportedly making their own survey to determine the time involved in using the Winnebago crossing and the Cecil Street intersection. They are expected to present the findings of their daily trips to the council this fall.

Cost is $4 for YMCA members and $8 for non-members. Further information may be obtained from Maxine Vanevenhoven, YMCA adult program office.

Majority of Applicants Fail New Insurance Test

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Many applicants for licensing as insurance agents were failing the new insurance examinations, and decided to study the matter more closely.

A re-reading of the examination papers showed the major cause of failure was associated with the new question now presented on homeowners' insurance, he said.

The fact that previous examination forms did not emphasize that subject leads the department to conclude that the training that a new man receives is aimed at passing the licensing examination rather than preparing him to sell insurance successfully, he commented.

Commissioner Robert Haase in a report on recent insurance examinations conducted by the department disclosed what he called the "Very interesting discovery."

The department recently reviewed the form and content of its written insurance examinations under the agents' licensing law.

Lack of Knowledge

It learned the ratio of failure among candidates for casualty insurance licenses did not vary significantly from earlier experience, although Haase said each license applicant in the future an outline of the material per cent failures was "fairly to be covered in the testing to high."

New agencies include Outagamie Association for Retarded Children, Sheltered Activities Center, Arthritis oundation, and Family Service Association. In addition, the Outagamie Mental Health Association is being included in the $313,246 goal for its full budget this year. During 1967 this agency is operating on surplus funds from previous independent campaigns.

would discuss the treatment plant grant request with city officials.

"It has been our feeling that insufficient attention has been given to one of the most important objectives of the water and sewer facilities grant, namely, That there be an areawide water or sewer program as part of the comprehensively planned development of the area," Bruder wrote Mayor Buckley.

He said part of the objective is to have each project be consistent with whatever areawide program is developed.

Wants to be Advised
Bruder said if the city wished to proceed with the pipeline construction before the treatment plant expansion matter is resolved, his office wanted to be advised.

"Otherwise we will wait until the matter of the treatment plant is settled," Bruder said.

Because the pipeline and plant expansion are linked, city officials want to settle the plant expansion grant problem first.

Boy, Girl Return To Appleton After Week-Long Runaway

A 19-year-old boy and a girl, 16, both of Appleton, returned home Saturday night after running away about 5 a.m. last Tuesday.

Appleton police, who said they might seek charges against the boy, were told that he took his mother's credit card and $60 from her purse, and that the girl had taken about $7 from her mother's purse when they ran away.

The youth told police he charged about $35 in clothing, gasoline, and groceries with the credit card. The pair drove to Milwaukee, then to Chicago, and from there went as far south as Louisville, Ky., and as far west as Hannibal, Mo. They used his auto.

They reportedly had run away with the intention of getting married.

Oshkosh Man Held In Green Bay Theft

GREEN BAY — A 31-year-old Oshkosh man was scheduled to be arraigned in Brown County Court Branch 2 this afternoon on a felony charge involving the armed robbery of a Green Bay supermarket Saturday night.

John J. Niebuurt is being held in county jail awaiting following a burglary over the arraignment after being arrested by police Saturday night. Spencer Street. The burglary when his car crashed while trying to elude officers.

He is being charged with holding up the Super Valu store, which was held up Saturday night at 1621 Main St. early Saturday night while armed with a .32-caliber pistol. About $3,000 in cash was taken in the holdup.

manner rather than be ringed by so-called "town tax islands."

Mayor Otto Festge, Madison, president of the Alliance of Cities, and Mayor Henry W. Maier, Milwaukee, are expected to give key testimony at the hearings.

Grow Normally
Milwaukee has pledged to throw full support behind revision of the annexation laws, although it would not be of much help to Wisconsin's largest city now.

"Although it is past time to help the City of Milwaukee with annexation bills, the legislature could act on the pending annexation revision bills so that other cities could grow normally and not be the center of an iron curtain as Milwaukee is," George Whitlow, Milwaukee's director of intergovernmental fiscal liaison, has informed Buckley.

Whitlow and some staff members had intended to meet today with Buckley and other city officials who are making arrangements for the Alliance conference here May 21-22, but called the session off when informed the bills would be up for hearing at Madison.

Neenah, Menasha, and Oshkosh belong to the Alliance of Cities.

Steals Bear
The reply came back that Warden Robert Smith of Menominee, Wis., was looking for the driver of a white Pontiac who allegedly stole a bear in Florence County the night before.

Morey asked Appleton police to send the "hunter" to his home. The hunter drove up in a white Pontiac, bearing the same license number as had been broadcast by Warden Smith.

Beslic opened his trunk and showed Morey the bear he said he had shot with bow and arrow, and wanted to register it.

Morey took Beslic inside his home, sat him down at the desk and informed him of his constitutional rights. The Milwaukee "hunter" then learned that he wasn't fooling Morey.

According to the warden's court testimony this morning,

Fireman Breaks Leg in Mishap

MENASHA — A city fireman sustained a broken leg this morning when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a car at the Third and De Pere street intersection.

Leonard J. Stanczak, 31, 847 Third St., was taken to Theda Clark Memorial Hospital where he was treated and released after the accident.

Police said he was riding west on Third Street when a car being operated by William G. Root, 36, 822 Commercial St., Neenah, turned left in front of the motorcycle. The motorcycle collided with the front of the car, according to officers, resulting in $50 damage to the cycle but apparently none to the car. The mishap was reported at 6:53 a.m.

Appleton Youth Injured After Losing Control Of Auto, Tipping Over
Charles H. Heckel, 18, 3404 N. Meade St., Appleton, suffered cuts and bruises when his 1952 auto went out of control and tipped over about 12:15 a.m. Sunday on French Road, near Broadway Drive, 5 miles north-east of Appleton.

Heckel, who was taken by Larry's Ambulance to Appleton Memorial Hospital, told Outagamie County police he was northbound on French Road,

Man Steals Bear

Razzing of Friends 'Barely' an Excuse

"Everyone was kidding me that I couldn't get a bear."

That was the excuse given Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller this morning when he asked a 24-year-old Milwaukee man why he stole a 200-pound black bear from a Fence, Wis., hunter who had befriended him.

Judge Keller, unimpressed with the reasoning, sent George Beslic, father of two, to jail for 10 days and fined him a total of $145 and costs or an additional 72 days.

Judge Keller displayed anger after Conservation Warden Dale Morey explained in court this morning the circumstances leading to Beslic's arrest Sunday evening.

Morey said that Beslic went to the Appleton Police Department about 6 p.m., inquiring as to where he could register a bear. Morey, knowing that the only open season on bear in Wisconsin at this time is a special gun season in the northern part of the state, got on his two-way radio and inquired of fellow wardens up north.

The reply came back that Warden Robert Smith of Menominee, Wis., was looking for the driver of a white Pontiac who allegedly stole a bear in Florence County the night before.

Morey asked Appleton police to send the "hunter" to his home. The hunter drove up in a white Pontiac, bearing the same license number as had been broadcast by Warden Smith.

Beslic opened his trunk and showed Morey the bear he said he had shot with bow and arrow, and wanted to register it.

Morey took Beslic inside his home, sat him down at the desk and informed him of his constitutional rights. The Milwaukee "hunter" then learned that he wasn't fooling Morey.

According to the warden's court testimony this morning,

Beslic stopped at a general store in Fence Saturday, inquiring as to where he might get a bear. He was told that a successful hunter down the road might give him some information as to good hunting grounds.

Turned on Friend

Beslic went to the home, and during the course of bear-hunting talk, was invited to have two cups of coffee. The family then went into the house for supper. Beslic left the house and went to the adjoining garage where he cut down the hanging, dressed-out bear and loaded it into his trunk — while the owner ate his supper.

Beslic slept in an abandoned home in the Fence area Saturday night, and was on his way back to Milwaukee Sunday when he stopped in Appleton.

Beslic pleaded guilty of possessing an unregistered bear outside the proper registration area 24 hours after it was killed, and carrying a loaded firearm in a vehicle. Morey said that he found a loaded .22 caliber revolver in a duffle bag behind the front seat of Beslic's auto, after the Milwaukee man had given the warden consent to search.

Gun Loaded

Asked why he was carrying the loaded gun, Beslic told Judge Keller, "I thought it was unloaded." To which an already much-angered Keller replied, "People get shot with unloaded guns."

Judge Keller called Beslic's actions, "Just about the lowest stunt I can imagine."

"I'm surprised you didn't go back into the house and ask for supper, too," he told Beslic.

Judge Keller ordered the man's pistol confiscated. Beslic also faces charges in Florence County for taking the bear, Morey said.

The bear? It was returned to Warden Smith at Menominee for evidence.

Reagan Can't Make Avenue Dedication

California Gov. Ronald Reagan will not be able to come to Appleton for the College Avenue opening celebration.

Mayor George Buckley received the word today from Reagan's personal secretary.

The Appleton Jaycees had volunteered to provide jet transportation for Reagan to come here the morning of Saturday, Sept. 30 — the day he will be in Milwaukee.

Buckley then wrote Reagan a letter officially inviting him here on behalf of the City of Appleton.

"Unfortunately because of Gov. Reagan's tight schedule we are unable to add any further engagements," Reagan's secretary wrote the mayor. "Gov. Reagan," he said, "expressed disappointment in not being able to rearrange his schedule."

Previously, Gov. Warren Knowles also sent regrets he could not attend the avenue dedication. Knowles wants to be with Reagan.

The city had hoped to get a national celebrity to be its guest.

Comedian Bob Hope had also been contacted and said he was sorry he couldn't make it here, either.

Family Counselor Judge Guests for SWAG Meeting

A Dane County family court counselor and an Outagamie County judge will be featured guests tonight at a meeting of Social Workers Action Group (SWAG) at Integrity Mutual Insurance Co., 526 W. Wisconsin Ave., Appleton.

David Curtis, of the Dane County Welfare Department, who is assigned to the family court in that county, will discuss his duties, and Outagamie County Judge Urban P. Van Susteren will be asked how such a counseling program could be implemented in this county.

SWAG, which consists of a number of social service workers from this area, has been interested in a strong program of family court counseling for some time.

Tonight's meeting starts at 7:30 p.m.

Kaukauna Boy Hurt When Struck by Car on Main Avenue Sunday

KAUKAUNA — Robert Van Eyck, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Van Eyck, 100 W. 10th St., suffered abrasions and contusions to the right arm and left leg when struck by an automobile about 11:50 a.m. Saturday.

According to police, the youth ran into the road in front of a car driven by James Kersten, 25, 624 W. 10th St., traveling south on Main Avenue.

The boy was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital in the city ambulance for treatment.

Pop Machine Stolen

OSHKOSH — A large soda pop vending machine was reported stolen this morning from Bernie's Deep Rock Service station on U.S. 41 in the Town of Menasha.

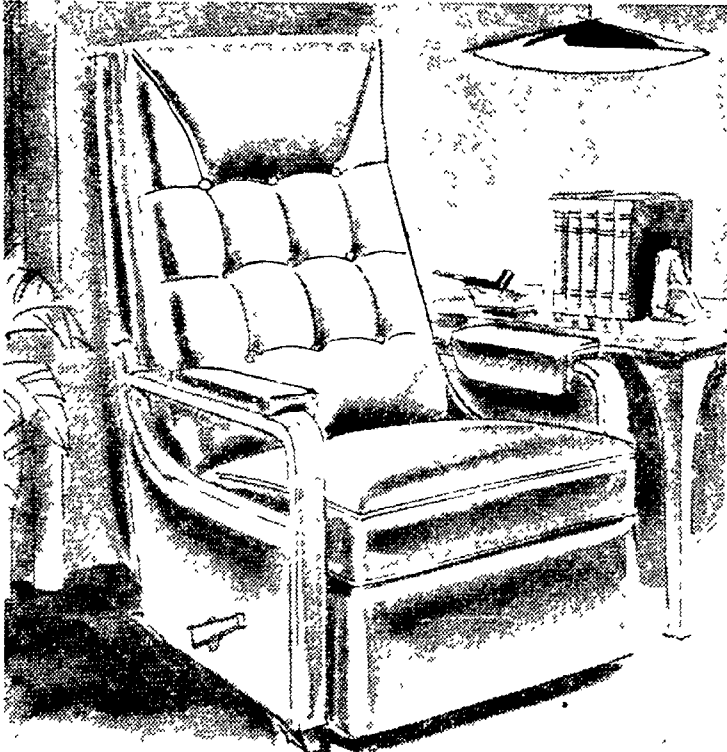

Bernard Poole, 960 Wheeler Rd., Neenah, who operates the station, reported the theft of the 5-foot high machine from the driveway of the station this morning.

Winnebago County sheriff's officers are investigating.

when the car went out of control on loose gravel, turned sideways, struck a bank, and flipped into the air. Police said the car rolled over, coming to rest on its side in a cornfield on the Victor Scheibe farm, route 3, Appleton

Roll-the-Checkers Is Fun To Play With Your Friends

BY CAPPY DICK

Today's fun-project is a game called "Roll-the-Checkers." A special roller is homemade. Fold and glue a strip of card-board to create a frame that will hold five checkers as in Figure 1.

Figure 2 shows a typical roll. Checker No. 1 is about to roll off the first table and so will score nothing. No. 2 and No. 3 will roll off the end of the second table, earning a total of 20 points for the player. No. 4 will roll off the side of the second table and will earn five points. Checker No. 5 has fallen on its side and scores nothing. The player's total score for this roll is 25 points.

The winner will be the player scoring the highest total of points in five rolls.

TOMORROW: A pair of spectacles for your piggy bank!

A Typical Roll

Place two card tables in a row (Figure 2). Standing at one end, each player takes a turn at rolling the checkers from the cardboard frame. The points won or lost by a player depend

Has Goodwill Soured At Friars Club West?

Investigation of Possible Cheating
Not Funny to Founders, Despite Cracks

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Janet Leigh turned the first spadeful of soil for the start of building the $750,000 Friars Club a few years ago. George Jessel offered the benediction:

"May this be a good place where men will laugh and drink and dine and tell a story and cut a card—all in goodwill."

Thomas Returns With Weekly Show

BY TV SCOUT
8-9 (Channels 4-5) — After a too long hiatus from the weekly TV scene, Danny Thomas debuts his new series The Danny Thomas Hour. It will have its host either performing or narrating a potpourri of entertainment forms from deep drama to light musicals. To kick it off, Danny wisely chose "The Wonderful World of Burlesque IV." In this latest edition of the well accepted series o f specials, Phil Silvers, Cyd Charisse, Nanette Fabray and Tennessee Ernie Ford are starred and the accolades must go to the very funny Miss Fabray. (C-Premiere)

9-10 (Channels 2-7-12) — The second part of tonight's "welcome back to weekly TV" salute goes to The Carol Burnett Show and its talented star, Carol, who admits to the problems of a woman hosting a series, has incorporated a foil, an announcer whom she describes as "sinfully handsome." His name is Lyle Waggoner and if you like him in the beginning have no fear, you'll be seeing lots more of him. Carol opens the show with one of her favorite characters, the Charwoman, and at the ending, brings her back in a psychedelic setting (for color viewers only) for a marvelous and unexpected arrangement of "Georgy Girl." Jim Nabors is tonight's guest star with regulars Vicki Lawrence and Harvey Korman. (C-Premiere)

6:30-7:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — Cowboy in Africa is a rare happening. It was supposed to ride into television on the wake of its motion picture predecessor, "Africa: Texas Style" which proved to be a bomb. So the reverse happens with this series having to overcome the hurdles presented by the poor acceptance of its parent product. And it does so admirably. Actually, the premise here is a solid one, having to do with the necessity of Africans to produce domestic animals from their vast wildlife herds, to provide food. To do this, American means of cattle raising, particularly the old cowboy standby, were imported, and with large successes.

Chuck Connors stars as a rodeo star with Tom Nardini, playing a Navajo Indian who is recruited with Connors to tame the wildebeest, impala and cape buffalo of the African veld. There's also Antoinette Bower as a Swiss girl working with tribes in the areas being cultivated. (C-Premiere)

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7-12) — Lucille Ball and Milton Berle hook up for the seasonal kickoff of The Lucy Show, and things appear pretty much the same. Milton wants to become a producer and Lucy takes a job as his part time secretary. When he rehearses with added guest Ruta Lee, Lucy mistakes the emoting for honest emotions and decides to set things straight for the absent Mrs. Berle. (C-Premiere)

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — Gunsmoke moves into its new day and time looking much the same as before, except for seeing James Arness in a killer's role. Kitty is the cause of it all when she, Matt and a killer named Monk are involved in a stage wreck. While Monk seems dead and Matt is unconscious, Kitty switches their identities to save Dillon from the outlaws who had sprung the trap. (C-Premiere)

Sinatra Walks Out on Sands Show; Replaced By Frankie Avalon
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Hotel spokesmen confirmed today that singer Frank Sinatra has left the Sands Hotel, apparently without any explanation. Al Freeman, a hotel spokesman, said Sinatra has been bothered recently by a sore throat, and had taken two days off last week for a trip to Palm Springs, Calif.

"I don't know why he has left," Freeman added. Freeman said singer Frankie Avalon will replace Sinatra for the rest of the engagement, which was to have run until Sept. 20.

been looking into reports that some of the card-cutting has not been performed with complete goodwill. Tony Martin, Phil Silvers, shoe millionaire Harry Karl and others have been called to testify of gin rummy losses at the Friars Club. George Raft told the jury last week that he never played cards at the club. Others, including gambling figures of Las Vegas and Miami, have been asked about alleged installation of electronic equipment to cheat players of stakes as high as $100,000.

Cracks Start Up
The disclosures have given rise to cracks from Hollywood's comedians, most of whom are members of the Friars. Milton Berle has his own designation for Karl, a former president of the club and one of the reported losers: "Friar Took."

But the investigation isn't funny to those who have tried to build the Friars Club into a place of companionship and good works. Said Phil Silvers: "It's despicable. It's sickening to find two or three scamps around and to know it'll take years for the club to recover." The history of the Friars Club goes back earlier in this century when a group of New York theatrical personalities banded together for fun and fraternity. One of the early members was Victor Herbert, who supplied the club's anthem.

Jessel Started Club
In 1946, George Jessel led a campaign to establish a west coast branch of the Friars Club. He enlisted such members as Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Jack Benny and George Burns as officers. The site of the first club headquarters was significant; it was the old Clover Club, a Sunset Strip night spot where Hollywood's stars had gambled during the mad '30s.

The clubhouse maintained a restaurant, steam room and card room and sponsored dinners and programs which have raised $3 million for charity. The biggest of all the shows was the 1949 "Show of a Lifetime," which indeed it was. Every big star from Al Jolson to Mario Lanza performed, and the chorus line featured George Murphy, Fred MacMurray, Robert Taylor, Van Johnson, Jimmy Stewart, Walter Pidgeon and Peter Lawford. The show raised $301,000 for the Motion Picture Relief Fund.

The Friars moved to the old Romanoff's restaurant in Beverly Hills, then decided to build its own luxury clubhouse on Santa Monica Blvd. Some members say that was the start of the club's troubles. Many of the show business Friars were too busy to devote much time to supporting the club. The membership was widened to include professional people and businessmen, including those of Las Vegas.

"I'll tell you when I quit being a member," says Groucho Marx. "I sat down at one of the dinners, and I heard this guy next to me saying, 'Gee, they're sure getting a strange bunch in the club nowadays.' Then I turned to see who was talking, and it was my barber! The next day I sent in my resignation."

Boy Won't Ride, Dies in Accident

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A second grade student who didn't want to ride home with a neighbor because there were "too many girls" in the car was killed Friday by a truck.

Police said the truck first struck a bus, the truck driver fell out and the truck ran wildly out of control, striking Clay Bowman, 7.

One of the boy's neighbors decided to take the children to and from school by car but the youngster said he'd rather walk back because he felt uncomfortable in the car with girls.

Money Authorized for Road Safety Division

MADISON (AP) — A federal grant of $48,414 has been authorized to aid Wisconsin's highway safety program, Gov. Warren P. Knowles said Friday. The money will be used in creating a division of highway safety coordination under the governor's office.

Torus Lump on Palate Is Common, Innocent

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M. D. Dear Dr. Molner: I would appreciate information about enlargement of the hard palate. Is it hereditary? Can any treatment other than surgery reduce it in size? Can dentures fit over it?

Both my husband and I have this trouble and so does one of our two daughters — Mrs. C. W. P.

Dr. Molner

I believe the condition to which you refer is the lumpy mass in the midline of the hard palate called a torus. This merely means an elevation or prominence.

It is in fact a growth of bone in the center of the hard palate where the two segments join (the opposite, in a sense, of a cleft palate, which occurs when the two segments do not grow together).

Hereditary? Yes, it tends to be seen in families.

But it is a painless, harmless, non-cancerous overgrowth of bone at that point. It is usually first found after a person has passed the teens.

People suddenly discover the lump, or it is pointed out by a dentist or physician after an examination. The patient usually has become so used to one having the lump that he then says that it has appeared overnight. This is not surprising that you haven't seen a mention of my booklet which discusses this problem and the size, then ceases to enlarge. No various methods of combatting treatment is necessary, general cramps of the legs and feet. If something must be done surgical removal is the only recourse. Usually dentures can be fitted to allow for this enlargement. Rest assured that this is a common but innocent deformity of the mouth.

Dear Dr. Molner: Will you tell me what to do to prevent leg rather simple measures such as when any single one does not. Since you are really troubled with such cramps you ought to read that booklet. It is called "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," and you can get a copy by mail. Send 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, in care of this newspaper.

If you need further information after reading the booklet, write to me again, but give the booklet a thorough reading and follow its instructions first.

Dear Dr. Molner: Lesions have been found in my pancreas and I am told that I may have to have surgery. The operation is called a "whiffle." I never heard of a person having the pancreas removed, nor of a "whiffle." I understand that the pancreas takes insulin? — Mrs. W.S.

Your ears tricked you. The operation, named for the man who devised it, is called the Whipple technique.

You are getting a bit ahead of things with the insulin question. Depending on further tests, it may be that removal of part of the pancreas will suffice. Should the entire organ have to be removed, which has happened in some cases, both insulin and digestive juices produced by the pancreas would have to be taken. Your doctor will explain it if that becomes necessary.

Little Chute Woman Charged in Accident

KAUKAUNA — Extensive damage resulted, but no one was injured in a two-car accident at Crooks Avenue and Second Street about 1 p.m. Friday.

According to police, a car driven by Miss Patricia Roemer, 19, 316 E. First St., Kimberly, was traveling north on Crooks Avenue when her car collided with a vehicle being driven west on Second Street by Mrs. Marvin Evers, 29, 321 Johnson Ave., Little Chute.

Mrs. Evers was issued a citation for failure to yield right of way.

Nicklaus Captures Third World Golf Title and $50,000

Finishes One Stroke Ahead of Masters Champion Gay Brewer

By JOE MOOSHIL
AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus is a proud man and because of his fierce pride he again is the World Series of Golf champion.

Nicklaus captured his third Series trophy and the top prize of $50,000 Sunday when he shot a 37-33-70 for a 36-hole total of 144 and a one-stroke victory over Masters champion Gay Brewer.

But his triumph was forged out of disgust with himself after shooting a four-over-par 74 in Saturday's first round rainstorm to trail the field.

Instead of calling it quits Saturday, the wet and chilled Nicklaus went out to the practice tee and hit golf balls until darkness forced him to quit.

Personal Pride
"I had played like an idiot Saturday," said Nicklaus. "I have too much personal pride to allow myself to play that badly. I didn't care how much it rained. I had to figure out a way to hit the ball solidly again."

For the final round Nicklaus came out trailing British Open champion Roberto de Vicenzo by four strokes. Brewer by three strokes and PGA titlist Don January by one.

In the face of 25-to 35 mile-an-hour winds, Jack matched Firestone's par of 35-35-70, bagging five birdies in the process. Brewer finished second and

Billie Jean King Cops Women's Crown; Cites Outdated Rules

By WILL GRIMSLEY
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — John Newcombe, now the world's top amateur tennis player, hasn't had any pro's answer yet but he admits he'll answer the telephone.

Sure, I'm interested in pro tennis — that's where the future of the game is," said the 23-year-old Sydney star, who Sunday added the American title to his Wimbledon championship. "If the right kind of proposition were to come along I'd certainly listen."

Newcombe, latest in the never-ending chain of net champions down from Under won the U.S. crown by beating Clark Graebner of Peewee, Ohio 6-4, 6-4, 8-6.

Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., also a winner at Wimbledon, ended a six-year dearth of American winners in the women's division by beating Ann Haydon Jones of Britain 11-9, 6-4.

The ladies stole some of the dramatics from the men when Mrs. Jones suffered a pulled hamstring muscle in her left thigh early in the match yet continued to play, fighting off nine set points in the first set and four match points in the second before bowing.

Billie Jean, now the world's best female player, has no intention of turning pro because there's no market, but she hasn't been bashful about speaking her mind on outdated amateur rules.

Wants New Arrangements
She thinks amateurs should get paid — and paid plenty — if the authorities can't decide on open tennis. She would like a

Got on Knees
Despite the five birdies, including one on the 16th hole, when Nicklaus sank a putt of 28 feet to take a two-stroke lead, the keys to his triumph were a couple of bogeys.

GREEN BAY — Six wins in six outings and a 157-58 margin in points scored.

This is the Packers pre-season record for 1957 Sunday, they open the "for real" campaign.

Are they ready?
That was the question put to Coach Vince Lombardi late Saturday night, minutes after his methodically brilliant charges had shredded the New York Giants, 31-14, in a game far more one-sided than the score indicates.

Typically, Lombardi's answer was "I don't think they're ever ready."

Satisfied Mood
In an apparently satisfied mood, the Packer head strategist acknowledged, however, that his team had "played fairly well... fairly well both ways."

But even at that, he added "we had a lot of penalties though, and they weren't very pleasing."

It was noted that the game could easily have been a shutout but for a freakish tip of a pass by Bob Jeter that landed in surprised Del Shofner's hands, setting up one touchdown and a pass interference penalty on Doug Hart that arranged for the Giant's second TD, a consolation gift in the waning minutes.

Only One Series
Shutouts don't mean anything it's only one point that counts," Lombardi appended. "The Packers came out of the game in 'real good shape' according to the coach, which, is at least one major case, and that of Bart Starr, put a lot of minds at ease.

Starr, who missed last week's game at Cleveland entirely and played only for one series the week before that at Dallas, connected on 15 of 21 passes for 235 yards in less than three quarters against the almost hapless Giants.

Lombardi agreed that it was a great performance and Starr smilingly admitted that it felt great to play again.

Reluctant to discuss his injury, Starr did say it was in his ribs and that he had incurred it early in the Shrine Game methodically brilliant charges but that it felt fine now.

Equally reluctant to discuss his sterling comeback, the NFL's most valuable player of a year ago modestly credited "excellent protection... just excellent and our guys were really getting into the open."

Racks Up 100 Yards in Bay Win

Grabowski's Running Improving Each Game

GREEN BAY (AP)—Gentle Close-mouthed Coach Vince man Jim Grabowski, a man who Lombardi was asked whom he fits the Green Bay mold of mild planned to start as running back in the NFL opener against Detroit here next Sunday. "I haven't the slightest idea," he said.

Grabowski's slashing gains and the perfectionist passing of Bart Starr gave Green Bay an impressive offense Saturday night as the Packers humbled the New York Giants 31-14 for their sixth straight National Football League exhibition triumph.

The soft-spoken Grabowski, a bonus back from Illinois now in his second year at Green Bay, said, "I'm getting to feel a little better every game. I feel more at home out there. There's still a lot of little things I've got to work on, but it's coming."

Mum Vince
Grabowski marked his 23rd birthday Saturday by piling up nearly 100 yards in running and pass catches although he played only half the game. He averaged seven yards a carry, had one run for 21 yards, and twice dashed 15 yards on a pair of swing passes.

Horlen Hurls No-Hitter, as Chisox Blank Tigers Twice

Joel Allows Only 2 Runners to Reach Base; Minnesota Retains League Lead With 4-2 Victory

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joel Horlen twisted the Tigers' tail and the Chicago White Sox never let go of the poor beast.

Horlen capped a weekend of flamboyance for Chicago and Detroit by pitching a no-hitter and beating the Tigers 6-0 in the first game of a Sunday double-header. The White Sox completed the sweep with three pitchers sharing the five-hit 4-0 nightcap victory.

Among the Top Performers in professional sports Sunday were Jack Nicklaus (top) and Joel Horlen. Nicklaus rallied to win the World Series of Golf in Akron, O. Horlen pitched a no-hit game as the White Sox beat Detroit, 6-0, in the first game of a double-header at Chicago. Horlen is shown phoning his wife, who lives in San Antonio. (AP Wirephotos)

Weekend Fights

MILAN, Italy — Sandro Mazzinghi, Italy, stopped Wally Swift, Britain, 6, welterweights.

DETROIT — Al "Blue" Lewis, Detroit, knocked out Don "Torro" Smith, Pittsburgh, 3.

The two victories moved Chicago into a third place tie with the Tigers, who only 24 hours earlier held on to a piece of the American League lead by rallying for seven runs in the ninth inning and a 7-3 victory over the Sox. The late-inning heroics was tough to top but Horlen did.

The quietly efficient Minnesota Twins, meanwhile, remained in first place with a 4-2 victory over Baltimore, and Boston clung to second place by beating New York 9-1. The Red Sox are one-half game behind Minnesota and Chicago and Detroit both stand 1½ games off the pace.

Rallies For 3

In other American League games Sunday, Washington rallied for three ninth inning runs and a 3-2 victory over California and Cleveland split a double-header with Kansas City, winning 1-0 before losing 5-2.

"I knew the importance of this game," said Horlen after his masterpiece. "If we lose this one, we're really down mentally. Especially after yesterday. We were the deadeast I've seen us all year."

So the 30-year-old right-hander methodically went about reviving the corpse. He allowed only two base runners, one on an error, the other on a hit batsman.

The White Sox gave him a quick five-run edge in the first inning with Wayne Causey's two-run triple the key blow. It was Causey who threw out Jerry Lumpe in the ninth inning for Horlen's closest call.

Lumpe lashed the ball through the box and Causey went behind second base to throw him out. "I just knew I had to get the ball," Causey said later. "I thought after that maybe I should have straightened before throwing off balance. I thought the ball got there just as his foot was going down on the base."

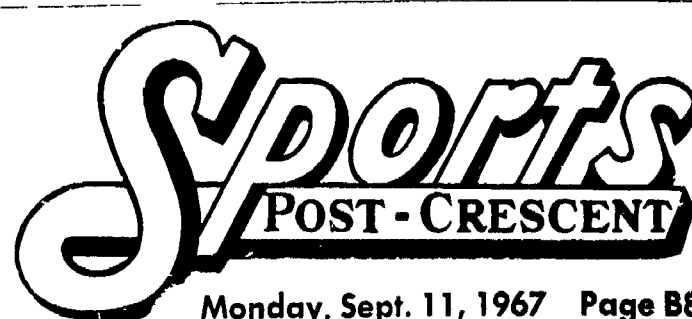

Now, with Horlen's no-hitter.

Cinderella Story Ends

Oakland Raiders Trim Denver, 51-0; Vikings Lose to Browns, 42-14

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Anybody want a slightly used slipper? Cheap? The one the Denver Broncos have been wearing for the last month suddenly doesn't fit so well any more.

The Cinderella story the Broncos, doormats of the American Football League last season, had been re-enacting for the last four weeks came to an unscheduled end Sunday as Denver was decimated by the Oakland Raiders 51-0.

The Broncos lost their first exhibition game, but then went on to slash through four foes, including National Football League opponents Detroit and Minnesota as well as these very same Raiders. In their regular season opener against Boston last week, the Broncos won again.

Remains a Question

What happened between last week and this remains a question for Coach Lou Saban to struggle with in the coming days.

"They just kicked the stuffing out of us," Saban said. "What else can you say?"

In another AFL game Sunday, Buffalo beat New York 20-17 and, in an NFL exhibition, Cleveland pounded Minnesota 42-14.

On Saturday, Kansas City beat Houston 25-20 and San Diego took Boston 28-14 in regular season AFL games.

In NFL exhibitions Saturday, New Orleans took Atlanta 27-14, Baltimore crushed Dallas 33-7, Chicago shut out Philadelphia 14-0, Green Bay beat New York 31-14, Washington shaded Pittsburgh 16-10, and Los Angeles downed San Francisco 34-7.

The destruction of the Broncos was as complete as it was surprising. Making only two first downs, the club was held scoreless for the first time in its 77-game history and suffered its most lopsided defeat.

30-Yard Pass

Leroy Kelly scored the first three Cleveland touchdowns on short rushes and a 30-yard pass from Frank Ryan as the Browns rolled up a 28-0 halftime lead. Rookie Carl Ward's 85-yard touchdown return of the second-half kickoff made it 35-0 before the Vikings could finally score Sunday. Denver scored a

Kilmer Sparks Saints' Rally To Beat Falcons

27-14 Victory Fifth For Expansion Club In Six Exhibitions

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Are the New Orleans Saints, winners of five straight National Football League exhibition contests, for real?

"We'll know next week," says Saints' Coach Tom Fears with a chuckle.

The expansion Saints start playing for keeps on Sunday when they take on the Los Angeles Rams, who beat New Orleans 16-7 in the first preseason game six weeks ago.

Buddy Young, a onetime pro great who now works in NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle's office, attributes the instant success of the Saints to "knowledgeable coaching."

"The Saints have a young aggressive coaching staff and most important they can communicate with the players," said Young, who watched New Orleans beat Atlanta 27-14 here Saturday night.

The 67,000 paying customers who welcomed the Saints for their first game in New Orleans kept quiet during the first half, when Atlanta took a 14-7 lead. After intermission, though, when quarterback Bill Kilmer came off the bench to throw three touchdown passes, the roar of the crowd was deafening.

"I never expected to win this number of games," Fears said today. "I can attribute this to being in better shape physically than the other teams since we started at least two weeks ahead of most of them."

Fears said he wouldn't make up his mind until Wednesday whether to start Kilmer, Gary Cuozzo or Gary Wood at quarterback against the Rams.

The balding Saints' coach says he considers Cuozzo the best passer of the three. However, Cuozzo hasn't been getting the protection in the line that a set back passer needs and that could explain his ineffectiveness against opponents.

Kilmer, on the other hand, moves out of the pocket when the pass rush or blitz is on.

Brue and Sucher Tie for Second

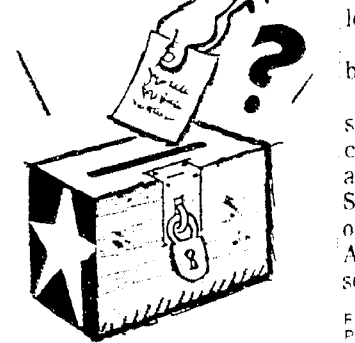

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Professional Bobby Brue and amateur Dick Sucher of Milwaukee had a round of 64-67 Sunday for a 132 total and a tie for second place in the U.S. Professional golf tournament.

The team of Tom Veech of Menomonee Falls, Wis., and Jack Hesler of Columbus, Ohio, tied at 133. Veech is a professional and the third place tie with two other twosomes netted him $1,816.

Sucher's partner, Brue, earned $2,375.

The tournament was won by Dale Douglass of Denver, Colo., and Hale Irvin of Boulder, Colo.

minus-5 yards on offense—48 net on the ground and a big minus 53 net trying to pass.

Another pass was intercepted and run back 36 yards to a touchdown. The Broncos completed only 2 of 16 attempts.

They made only three first downs—one the first time they had the ball and two in the final minutes.

They were so unoffensive they were forced to punt 12 times, a team game record.

The Raiders scored their second highest total points and their widest victory margin. They once made 52 against Houston.

Team Records Raider safety Roger Bird ran back 9 punts for 143 yards, both team records. Two runs of 43 and 53 yards set up quick touchdowns.

The Raiders scored four times on the ground and twice with aerials. One was a 50-yarder from George Blanda to Warren Wells. Darvle Lamonica threw the other. He also skirted four yards on the ground for a touchdown.

Saban, lured from Maryland for a $500,000, 10-year contract, declared afterward despite the loss.

"Our team is young but we'll be rough,"

Raider Coach John Rauch said charitably. "Forget it. We caught a flat team. We've got a tougher coming up in Boston Sunday. The Patriots have one of the strongest teams in the AFL but they've lost two games so they'll be hungry."

The player identified as East's Tim Horn should have been Birk. The error stemmed from the wrong listing of jersey numbers on the game program.

Error Cost Perry Chance to Beat Carl Hubbell's Record

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "I went into the 7th inning with a guess you never learn enough 2-0 lead, but wildness cost him about baseball," conceded Gaylord Perry after his own error cost him a chance to beat Carl Hubbell's National League record of 46 and 1-3 scoreless innings.

Perry picked up the ball. Ron Santo opened the inning with a walk and Ernie Banks hit a grounder to the mound.

"I'm going to have to go out spun around, and threw wildly and work on my throws to see into center field attempting to end base," added the San Francisco Giants right-hander.

Perry had his scoreless string when Bob Raudman bounced snapped at 40 innings Sunday into a double play.

The parsimonious pitcher time," admitted Perry. "But I'm glad it happened this way if it had to happen. Now I can't blame anyone but myself."

Despite his failure to reach Hubbell's mark, Perry lowered his earned run average to a team-leading 2.75. Last year's 21-game winner now has a 13-15 record and is 8-5 since the All-Star break.

The 23-year-old California housewife's immediate tennis aim is the so-called grand slam — winning the Australian, French, Wimbledon and U.S. crowns in a single year. Only Maureen Connolly, in 1953, has done it.

Newcombe is not as bent on the grand slam as he is on furthering his career in pro tennis.

"I'd have trouble," he acknowledged. "The French is played on clay and I'm not so hot on clay." Don Budge was the first to win the slam among the men, in 1938, and another redhead, Rod Laver, matched it in 1962.

"Open tennis is definitely coming," Newcombe predicted. "We'll be playing in the big indoor stadiums all over the world and before national and worldwide television audiences. A player would be foolish not to recognize this possibility and take advantage of it."

The new U.S. champ turned prophet and offered a few observations free of charge:

Injuries, Inexperience Plague Dallas

Unitas Picks Apart Green Dallas Defense

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — John Unitas showed almost 60,000 fans how a great quarterback works, especially when the position's inexperience sticks out right in front of him, as the Baltimore Colts crushed the Dallas Cowboys 33-7 Saturday night.

It was only a preseason game but it demonstrated just how thin the Cowboys are and how much trouble they're going to have repeating as National Football League Eastern Conference champions if the injury bugaboo raises its head.

Unitas had a field night as he threw for 253 yards and two touchdowns, both of which he set up, and his passing also set up a third touchdown scored by Jerry Hill with a yard snap.

While he was certainly on the beam with 17 to 28 connections, Dallas' main trouble was that it had to use inexperienced corner close to handling the great Unitas.

Sprained Ankle Cornell Green, Dallas' All-Pro, had to leave the game early with an ankle sprain and rookie Phil Clark subbed for him. At the other cornerback was Mike Johnson, a second year man but without experience at the position.

Unitas passed over these two for his touchdowns and he also passed over them for much of his other gains. And rookie Jim Ward, who spelled Unitas in the fourth period, threw for all of the yardage in a 45-yard drive, climaxed by his three-yard scoring pass over Johnson.

to think about instead of Saturday's ninth inning nightmare, the Sox went about completing the sweep. Francisco Carlos, the 26-year-old rookie, won it with Hoyt Wilhelm and Bobby Locker finished up.

Singles by Don Buford and rookie Bill Voss set up a two-run first inning with one run scoring on a wild-pitch third strike and the other on Pete Ward's sacrifice fly.

Chicago added two more in the eighth on run-scoring singles by Charlie Bradford and Ward. Dave Boswell pitched a five-hitter for the Twins, who scored the tie-breaking run against Baltimore on a seventh inning error by the usually sure-handed Brooks Robinson.

Zoilo Versalles, who had opened the inning with a double, was on third with two out when Robinson booted Harmon Killebrew's ground ball. Rich Reese's pinch double, following a single by Bob Allison and an error by Luis Aparicio, drove in another run in the eighth.

Hot-hitting Tony Oliva drove in Minnesota's first two runs and the Orioles bunched three of their hits for both their runs off Boswell, 13-10, in the fourth.

Gary Bell pitched a four-hitter and Boston bombed the Yankees with 13 hits to keep pace with the Twins.

George Scott and Mike Andrews each slugged a pair of doubles, Ken Harrelson had a home run and a single and Mike Ryan a bases-loaded triple to lead the Boston attack.

The defeat officially eliminated the Yankees from pennant contention.

It was not only the sixth straight pre-season victory for the champions, but their 13th in a row — dating back to November of the 1966 season — and their ninth successive conquest of the Giants.

For Vince Lombardi, it was the fourth perfect exhibition campaign in nine seasons. (The others came in 1960, 61 and '62), and vaulted his pre-season record to 42-8, a sparkling .840 winning percentage.

America's Cup Series Starts

Intrepid Slight Favorite to Extend U. S. Mastery

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—The world's most prized yachting trophy, the America's Cup, goes up for grabs Tuesday with the United States' Intrepid a slight favorite to extend this country's long domination against an Australian challenger.

Dame Pattie, designed by Warwick Hood and skippered by Jock Surrock, is the Australian challenger in the best-of-7 series for 12-meter yachts.

Intrepid, designed by Olin Stephens specifically for this defense, will be skippered by Bus Mosbacher of White Plains, N.Y., a 46-year-old veteran. The United States never has lost a series in 19 challenges dating back to 1851, and the silver cup has never moved from its stand at the New York Yacht Club. The last previous challenge was in 1952—the only other one by Australia.

In that one, Mosbacher, sailing Weatherly, beat Sturrock in Gretel four races to one. The Australians insist that this time will be different. The races will be sailed over a 23.4-mile course seven miles south-southeast of Brenton Reef Tower in Rhode Island Sound. Races will not be sailed in foggy or the race will be called no or extreme calm or extremely contest.

Causey Handles 2 Threats to No-Hitter

'The Walking Dead Is Walking Again,' Says Jubilant Eddie Stanky

CHICAGO (AP) —"The walking dead is walking again," declared a jubilant Eddie Stanky newsmen and happy teammates Sunday after his White Sox swept Detroit 6-0 and 4-0, but it was Joe Horlen who took the first big step.

Horlen, a lean Texan with a fluid delivery and a diving fastball, fired a no-hit, no-run masterpiece at the Tigers in the opener and a trio of Sox pitchers held the Bengals scoreless in the nightcap. Stanky's remarks referred to a newspaper article describing the Sox as "walking dead" after the Tigers' seven-run uprising in the ninth inning Saturday. "I never said a word to Horlen all day," Stanky said, "other than 'you're pitching the first game.'"

Horlen, his blond hair still moist with the exertion and anxiety of the game, looked stormy. The yachts must finish by 6 p.m., EDT, daylight saving time.

"Char" Berg socked a 229 game on her way to a 560 series in the Pixie League at Little Chute Recreation Lanes.

Marge De Young crashed a 200 and a 536 aggregate to lead the Hahn's Navy League. Mary Schultz hit a 523 for runner-up honors, while Lavern Jentz, Vernell Baldvek, and Donny Kassube posted games of 196, 192 and 190, respectively.

Ruth Landua slammed a 541 set, including a 211 knr, for the best marks in the Lucky Strike loop at Jerry's Lanes. Kimberly Marcy Kobs came in with a 193. Irene Krueger's 200 game was the lone honor score from the Kimberly Ladies League, at Jerry's.

snare the ball. In the dramatic ninth inning, after Horlen recorded his fourth strikeout by fanning pinch batter Gates Brown, Jerry Lumpe took the Tigers' best shot.

He smashed a wicked ground ball over the pitching mound and Causey went far to his right field in the fourth inning, but Wayne Causey leaped to nailed Lumpe.

East-West Trade Plan Dying of Bungling

Gravity Meter Sale to Russia Is Given as Example of Lack of Study

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—One clue to why President Johnson's program for expanded East-West trade is dying can be found in the monumental bureaucratic bumbling in processing just one application for an export license.

The license would have permitted export to Communist Poland of a Worden type gravity officials in the Commerce Department were not consulted.

Mundt Intervenes

What followed was an unexplained interminable period of stalling during which the Export Control Office neither killed nor reinstated the license but kept it suspended in a state of bureaucratic limbo. That impasse ended in June when an aide in the office of South Dakota's Senator Karl Mundt checking export license request spotted the gravity meter approval of Feb. 1.

Republican Mundt, an effective foe of East-West trade, wrote the Commerce Department June 6 charging that the Worden type gravity meter was not obtainable behind the Iron Curtain and what's more could help Soviet missile trajectory. Mundt made public his charges and conservative writers and journals took up the chant. In the face of this heat the unidentified exporter understandably withdrew his license application on July 14.

Top officials in the Commerce Department not only deny Mundt's charges but say privately that lower level bureaucrats erred Feb. 14 when they suspended the license because of intelligence data. Asserting that this is not even a borderline case and approval should have come quickly, the policy makers call the affair a case of bureaucratic inefficiency that pops up now and then.

Pentagon View

So it was but that's not the whole story. Highly reliable Pentagon officials while not talking publicly admit privately that Karl Mundt has a point.

Contrary to Commerce Department denials, the Worden type meter is not obtainable behind the Iron Curtain and might well be of use in Soviet missiles. The Pentagon would have played it safe and advised against granting the license — if it had been asked.

The remarkable truth is that the Commerce Department never asked the opinion of the Defense establishment. Not was the Pentagon consulted in 1965 when the Commerce Department approved licenses for exporting two Worden type meters to Communist Romania. Indeed there is no set system of consultation between the Commerce and Defense Departments on East-West trade questions.

All this by no means substantiates Mundt's claim that East-West trade is inherently dangerous to national security. But it does show how woefully inadequate is the governmental machinery to help build commercial bridges with Eastern Europe. The pity is that nobody in the administration seems to care.

Evacuations Begin For Flood-Devastated Sections of India

NEW DELHI (AP) —

Flood waters coursing down stream from the collapsed Narmada Dam Saturday night threatened the city of Shahjahanpur and emergency evacuation of all low lying areas was under way.

Elsewhere, army boats began evacuating 300 passengers from a train marooned since Thursday in flood-ravaged Rajasthan State.

Monsoon rains are causing the worst flooding in 20 years in many sections of northern India. Official reports tell of at least 500 persons dead, thousands homeless and countless livestock drowned as well as extensive crop damage.

Nightmarish Aspects Of Economy Outlined

BY SYLVIA PORTER

This is the nightmare pattern which is now being drawn for the U. S. economy and for our pocketbooks — as wage and salary earners as businessmen as housewives.

(1) A rapidly accelerating rise in the cost of living. It involves goods and services across the board and is being caused both by mounting costs pushing up prices and by mounting demands pulling up prices. This in short is the dread conjoining the two types of inflation — cost

(2) Climbing federal state and local taxes on individuals and corporations. Rarely has the tax bite come from so many directions at the same time. This reflects the urgent effort of each level of government to grab a bigger share of our incomes to finance an ever swelling total of spending.

Curb on Credit

(3) Historically steep interest rates plus increasing curbs on the amount of credit available to borrowers. This is the inevitable result of today's huge demands for credit and of the Federal Reserve System's efforts to combat inflation by limiting the supply of credit and making borrowing more difficult.

(4) A stickily high jobless rate among unskilled and minority group workers — side by side with shortages of many types of skilled workers. This is a dangerous combination because the shortages of skilled workers together they add up to economic threaten our economic growth.

while the surpluses of unskilled untrained workers are obvious social-economic political dynamite.

(5) A federal budget flooded with red ink despite income tax increases and general prosperity. This reflects the skyrocketing expenses of the Vietnam war and not the expansion of spending for desirable domestic programs.

(6) More red ink in our international financial accounts (balance of payments) which means a continuing drain on our already seriously depleted gold reserves. This stems from the fact that we are still spending far more abroad than we are earning abroad and there is no hope for a significant change for the better as long as we are pouring out so much for Vietnam.

Grim Listing

A grim listing? You bet it is! Each force by itself would be a tions climb closer to capacity. All at the same time the automobile wage settlement will unquestionably set a new target

Yet I am not exaggerating one bit in this listing. Actually all I am doing is summarizing in one column developments I have been reporting in print for many months in separate stories. The summary gives the story per

There is no doubting that the pace of inflation is quickening and no ducking the evidence that this is just the start of the new acceleration. Price increases are being posted every day and deficit in our Federal budget we're hearing and reading about only the big ones. The steel price hike is in itself not important but it is symbolic. It's common place now to hear about price increases in lumber, plywood, chemicals, sulphur, aluminum, rubber, color TV, copper and on and on. What's more the fact that these increases are taking place while industry is still operating below capacity signals a real danger of speed-up when industry's operations climb closer to capacity.

But no longer is it the healthy balanced expansion of the early 1960s. In fact it has developed as this analysis has indicated some nightmarish aspects questionably set a new target for other unions and cost pressures on prices will intensify.

On top of these disturbing inflationary factors comes the warning by both businessmen and labor leaders that they will try to offset coming income tax increases by raising prices and wage demands. One individual who does not come out ahead in this leapfrog race is the consumer.

As for the income tax surcharge, it's a probability for Jan. 1, 1968. Without it the Federal budget could reach monstrous proportions. Without it the Federal Reserve System might feel it had to fight inflation by tightening credit to a crisis point. Overall our economy is in the greatest economic upturn of all history. Next month the expansion will be 80 months old, matching the boom that spanned World War II.

But no longer is it the healthy balanced expansion of the early 1960s. In fact it has developed as this analysis has indicated some nightmarish aspects questionably set a new target

Lynda Bird Johnson, elder daughter of the President, poses with Marine Capt. Charles Robb of Milwaukee at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex., shortly after their engagement was announced by the White House. (AP Wirephoto)

Engaged to Marine Captain

Lynda to be December Bride

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House wedding in early December is planned for Lynda Bird Johnson and Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, who met the president's daughter in the line of duty. The surprise announcement of President and Mrs. Johnson's engagement ended continued speculation over the romantic interest of the president's daughter. She had numerous beaux through the years and broke an engagement to a young Navy lieutenant three years ago.

Until Robb came along, Lynda had been dating Hollywood actor George Hamilton more than anyone else.

Robb, who plans to make the Marines his career and is scheduled to go to Vietnam in February, first met Lynda a little more than a year ago when he was assigned to the White House as a military social aide. She called on him to make a fourth at bridge for a third floor solatium card game.

They didn't start dating steadily, though until the past four months.

There was excitement and happiness in the Johnson family over Lynda's news, and her younger sister, Luci, 20, now Mrs. Patrick J. Nugent and mother of an 11-week son, shared it.

All knew secret.

The whole family, including the Nugents and Robb, went to St. David's Episcopal Church in Austin, Tex., Sunday morning. They all knew the secret then, since Robb had given Lynda an engagement ring Saturday night—a center diamond flanked by two smaller diamonds.

90 Per Cent Effective

Teachers, Students Skip N.Y. Classes

NEW YORK (AP) — Most of the city's 55,000 public school teachers refused to report for the opening of the fall term today in a contract dispute with the board of education. A school union spokesman with representatives of the called the action 90 per cent effective.

The schools opened anyway, but many of the pupils stayed home. The teachers, by secret balloting Sunday, had voted 12,333 to 2,523 to reject a $125-million two-year contract.

Albert Shanker, president of the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, called it a mass resignation rather than a strike, resignations last spring, to be handed over to the board of education today if a contract agreement were not reached.

Just an hour before the 8:30 a.m. school opening time, a court order against the work stoppage was served on the union.

Many teachers showed up as pickets outside some schools this morning.

"Isn't this an indication you're on strike?" a newsmen asked one.

"Not at all," the picket replied. "We're just calling the public's attention to a bad situation in the schools."

The board of education was attempting to keep the schools open, using supervisory personnel, auxiliary teachers, and the regular teachers who did come to work.

Some students showed up for classes. "I don't know how long I'll have to stay," said one girl walking along a street unusually deserted for a school day. "But mother said I should go."

Indians, Chinese Clash on Border

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian and Red Chinese forces clashed on the Sikkim border along Chinese held Tibet today. The Indian defense ministry said Chinese artillery and small arms fired killed some Indians, and wounded others. Red China claimed 25 of its troops were killed or wounded.

Both sides blamed the other for starting the fight, the second in five days in the area high in the Himalayas.

As protector of Sikkim, India is responsible for its defense.

All India radio reported the Chinese troops opened fire in fog and mist on Indian forces guarding Nathu La Pass. It said the shooting started with rifle and machine gun fire and then was followed up with artillery and mortars.

U.S. Bombers Wreck Third Largest Seaport

Target North Of Haiphong Was Immune

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes delivered a smashing blow Sunday at Cam Pha in North Vietnam and pilots reported they all but knocked out that port, used to export coal to pay for arms from abroad. It was the first raid on Cam Pha, previously on the Pentagon's restricted list and North Vietnam's third largest port.

Aground, U.S. Marines outnumbered 4 to 1 beat back 3,000 North Vietnamese who apparently were trying to cut off their supply base at Con Thien near the demilitarized zone. The U.S. Command said at least 141 enemy troops were killed. Marine losses were 34 killed and 185 wounded.

Until the raid Sunday, the port of Cam Pha north of the main major one at Haiphong, had been immune from attack although antiaircraft sites on its outskirts were blasted in June. That was when pilots strafed the Soviet merchant ship Turkistan in Cam Pha harbor.

Striking deep into North Vietnam, Air Force plans ran into MIG17s. One Communist jet was probably downed by an F105 Thunderchief pilot, who said it flipped over and vanished after his cannon fire ripped into its wings.

Marine forces today were sweeping the bloody field 4½ miles south of the demilitarized zone where they hit the North Vietnamese regiment Sunday night.

The Marines had been moving from the nearby bunkered fortress of Con Thien when the

Hurricane's Toll Now 16

Haiti, Cuba Brace for Beulah

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Beulah battered the southern coast of the Dominican Republic with 125-mile-an-hour killer winds today and aimed her fury westward toward the voodoo island of Haiti, most heavily populated country in the Western Hemisphere.

More than 1,000 persons in the Dominican Republic's Barahona coastal capital but gale force winds and heavy rains hit the storm, blamed for 16 deaths in the eastern Caribbean.

There was no immediate word from the peninsula, where hurricanes bring traditional flooding. More than a dozen persons lost their lives there last year when Hurricane Inez swept through.

Across Peninsula Forecasters in Miami said Beulah's westward course would take her across the peninsula on a route that would carry her parallel with Haiti's Massif du Nord mountain range.

At 10 a.m. EDT Beulah's calm eye was located over the Barahona Peninsula at Latitude 17 8 North, Longitude 71 6 West or about 70 miles southeast of Port Au Prince, Haiti and some 650 miles southeast of Miami.

Weathermen also kept track of Hurricane Chloe and Hurricane Doria in the Atlantic.

Doria, off the Virginia Capes was plotted near Latitude 36 2 North, Longitude 72 0 West. Chloe far out to sea was put near Latitude 26 5 North, Longitude 47 0 West.

Heavy rains and massive flooding are certainly in store for Haiti and these are the things that can cause deaths, said Dr. Robert H. Simpson of the National Hurricane Center at Miami. "This storm definitely will give Haiti a lot of trouble," Dr. Simpson said. "Currents near the mountain range could easily sweep the massive storm across the range and into Haiti's narrow valleys causing them to flood."

Take Precautions Residents in Haiti and along the southern coast of Eastern Cuba were warned to take immediate precautions against flooding and storm tides up to eight feet above normal.

Dr. Simpson said Beulah would probably either pass by strikes by public employees, he or across the Haitian peninsula during the evening.

In either case, her winds would affect the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, only 60 miles from the tip of the peninsula, on Cuba's southeastern coast. Spokesmen at the base said storm preparations began Sunday night.

The storm skirted Santo Domingo, the Dominican Republic's coastal capital but gale force winds and heavy rains hit the city Sunday night after raking sections of Puerto Rico earlier in the day.

The steep mountains and narrow valleys of the Barahona Peninsula and Haiti's long, narrow western peninsula act as huge spillways when tropical storms dump their millions of gallons of water.

Hurricane Doria churned along the East Coast of the United States on a course expected to take her 250 miles east of the Virginia Capes. Hurricane Chloe swirled along the Atlantic more than 1,000 miles east-southeast of Bermuda still days from land.

'Let's Go to the North Side'

Milwaukee Police Use Gas To Disperse Riotous Whites

By KEN HARTNETT

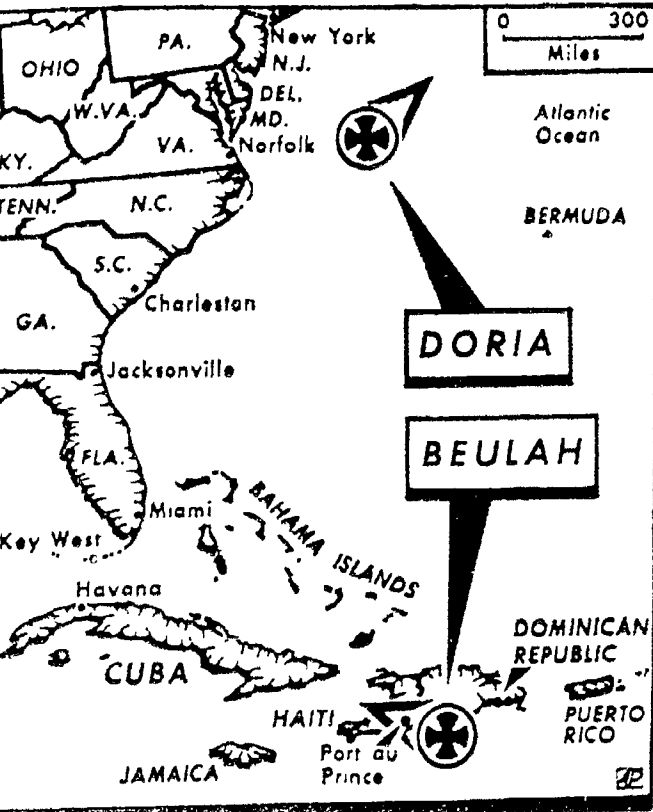

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hundreds of residents of the virtually all-white South Side were scattered by repeated rounds of police tear gas Sunday night in a near riotous aftermath to a Negro open housing march.

"Let's go to the North Side," shouted South Side youths milling along what they mistakenly believed would be the route of the Negro marchers.

Police who tried to persuade the throngs to disperse were pelted with wood bottles and bricks. They retaliated with tear gas, lunging down residential streets after whites who retreated there.

"Nigger lovers," the residents shouted at police. "You protect them but you won't protect us." "Let's keep it that way."

The 2,500 marchers who had taken a different route through why can't we?" the South Side South Side in a 1½h straight day of demonstrations were already back at their headquarters in the nearly all-Negro North Side when the white up- rising started. Nineteen per- sons were arrested and three already have."

The Negro marchers had just disappeared over the viaduct during the open housing march held under heavy police guard.

Form Parade

After a series of tear gas attacks, about 500 youths finally formed a parade line. Police allowed half the group to move all the way across a viaduct lead- ing out of the South Side. At the end of the viaduct, police stopped the march cold with a show of force and persuasion.

"This is the South Side, the good side of town," an officer told the would-be marchers. "Listen to your radios if you don't believe me," one offi- cer said. "They're back on the North Side."

Firecrackers began to ex- plore. The crowd took up the chant, "We want Groppi," a reference to the white Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. James E. Groppi, who is leading the Negro demonstrations. Father Groppi, son of Italian immi- grants, was born and raised on the South Side.

A plump woman in a blue dress and gold slippers began dancing in the street. "Tell them niggers to leave town," someone shouted.

A young man began trying to form a line of marchers for the North Side. A man in a check- ered work shirt, his gray hair close cropped, walked uncertainly into the intersection.

"Clear that intersection," a police officer yelled.

Curbside Struggle Police moved toward the man and the woman in blue. There was a struggle at curbside. Rocks flew toward police. Squads of officers in gas masks rushed forward and began firing gas canisters into the crowd.

When the smoke had cleared, the man in the checkered shirt was unconscious on a curb. The woman in blue was crying hysterically.

"I hate everyone of you cops. I hate niggers. I hate them. I hate them from the top to the bottom. I hate them. I hate them," she sobbed. Asked what she was doing on the street, she said, "I'm here because I'm Polish."

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes delivered a smashing blow Sunday at Cam Pha in North Vietnam and pilots reported they all but knocked out that port, used to export coal to pay for arms from abroad. It was the first raid on Cam Pha, previously on the Pentagon's restricted list and North Vietnam's third largest port.

Aground, U.S. Marines outnumbered 4 to 1 beat back 3,000 North Vietnamese who apparently were trying to cut off their supply base at Con Thien near the demilitarized zone. The U.S. Command said at least 141 enemy troops were killed. Marine losses were 34 killed and 383 wounded.

Until the raid Sunday, the port of Cam Pha north of the main major one at Haiphong, had been immune from attack although anti-aircraft sites on its outskirts were blasted in June. That was when pilots strafed the Soviet merchant ship Turkistan in Cam Pha harbor.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Beulah battered the southern coast of the Dominican Republic with 125-mile-an-hour killer winds today and aimed her fury westward toward the voodoo island of Haiti, most heavily populated country in the Western Hemisphere.

More than 1,000 persons in the Dominican Republic's Barahona Peninsula fled the advancing storm, blamed for 16 deaths in the eastern Caribbean.

There was no immediate word from the peninsula, where hurricanes bring traditional flooding. More than a dozen persons lost their lives there last year when Hurricane Inez swept through.

Across Peninsula

Forecasters in Miami said Beulah's westward course would take her across the peninsula on a route that would carry her parallel with Haiti's Massif du Nord mountain range.

At 10 a.m. EDT Beulah's calm eye was located over the Barahona Peninsula at Latitude 17.8 North, Longitude 71.6 West or about 70 miles southeast of Port Au Prince, Haiti and some 650 miles southeast of Miami.

Weathermen also kept track of Hurricane Chloe and Hurricane Doria in the Atlantic.

Doria, off the Virginia Capes was plotted near Latitude 36.2 North, Longitude 72.0 West. Chloe, far out to sea, was put near Latitude 26.5 North, Longitude 47.0 West.

Heavy rains and massive flooding are certainly in store for Haiti and these are the things that can cause deaths," said Dr. Robert H. Simpson of the National Hurricane Center at Miami.

This storm definitely will give Haiti a lot of trouble," Dr. Simpson said. Wind currents near the mountain range could easily sweep the massive storm across the range and into Haiti's narrow valleys, causing them to flood.

Take Precautions

Residents in Haiti and along the southern Coast of Eastern Cuba were warned to take immediate precautions against flooding and storm tides up to eight feet above normal.

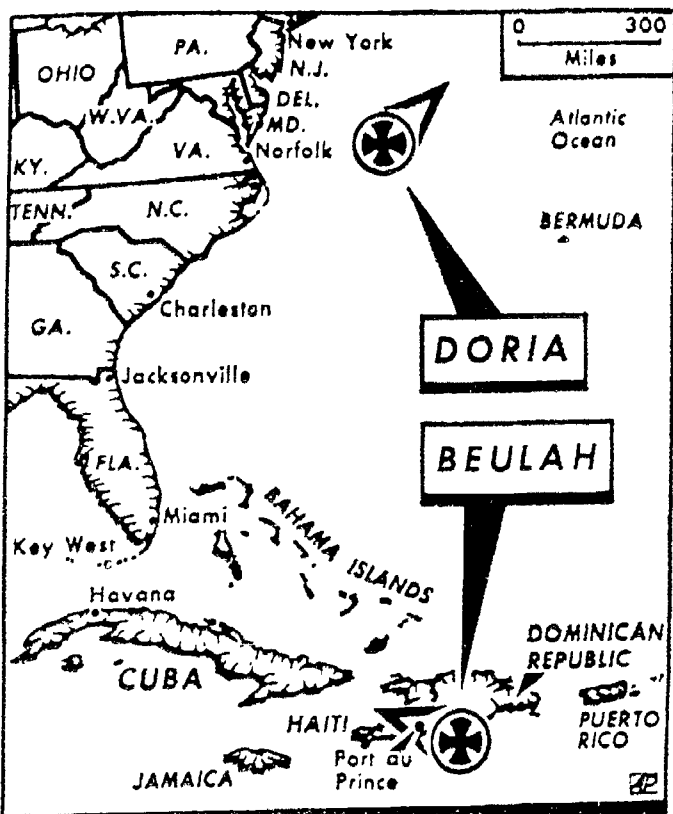

Dr. Simpson said Beulah would probably either pass by strikes by public employees, or across the Haitian peninsula during the evening.

In either case, her winds would affect the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, only 60 miles from the tip of the peninsula, on Cuba's southeastern coast. Spokesmen at the base said storm preparations began Sunday night.

The storm skirted Santo Domingo, the Dominican Republic's coastal capital but gale force winds and heavy rains hit the city Sunday night after raking sections of Puerto Rico earlier in the day.

The steep mountains and narrow valleys of the Barahona Peninsula and Haiti's long, narrow western peninsula act as huge spillways when tropical storms dump their millions of gallons of water.

Hurricane Doria churned along the East Coast of the United States on a course expected to take her 250 miles east of the Virginia Capes. Hurricane Chloe swirled along the Atlantic more than 1,000 miles east-southeast of Bermuda still days from land.

'Let's Go to the North Side'

Milwaukee Police Use Gas To Disperse Riotous Whites

By KEN HARTNETT

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hundreds of residents of the virtually all-white South Side were scattered by repeated rounds of police tear gas Sunday night in a near riotous aftermath to a Negro open housing march.

"Let's go to the North Side," shouted South Side youths milling along what they mistakenly believed would be the route of the Negro marchers.

Police who tried to persuade the throngs to disperse were pelted with wood, bottles and bricks. They retaliated with tear gas, lunging down residential streets after whites who retreated.

"Nigger lovers," the residents shouted at police. "You protect the niggers but you won't protect us."

The 2,500 marchers, who had taken a different route through why can't we?" the South Side Negro demonstrators were asked.

ready back at their headquarters. The sergeant said, "They'd get torn up over there. (The North Side) I don't want a bigger problem than we already have."

The Negro marchers had just disappeared over the viaduct after the largest civil rights demonstration in the city's history when the trouble flared along a South Side business street about two miles away.

Residents refused at first to form a parade line. Police believed police assertions that loved half the group to move all the Negro marchers were not the way across a viaduct leading through their neighborhood out of the South Side. At the hood "Listen to your radios if you don't believe me," one officer shouted. "They're back on the streets after whites who retreated."

Lynda to be December Bride

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House wedding in early the LBJ Ranch, December is planned for Lynda Lynda, 23, the Johnson's older daughter, showed off her sparkling diamond engagement ring, Charles S. Robb, who met the president's daughter in the line but ignored photographers' requests to kiss her 28-year-old fiancée.

Smiling, holding hands, the young couple flew back from Texas Sunday night aboard the presidential jet plane after The surprise announcement of President and Mrs. Johnson's Lynda's engagement ended continued speculation over the romantic interest of the President's daughter. She had numerous beaux through the years and broke an engagement to a young Navy lieutenant three years ago.

Until Robb came along, Lynda had been dating Hollywood actor George Hamilton more than anyone else.

Robb, who plans to make the Marines his career and is scheduled to go to Vietnam in February, first met Lynda a little more than a year ago when he was assigned to the White House as a military social aide. She called on him to make a fourth at bridge for a third floor solarium card game.

They didn't start dating steadily, though, until the past four months.

There was excitement and happiness in the Johnson family over Lynda's news, and her younger sister, Luci, 20, now Mrs. Patrick J. Nugent and mother of an 11-week son, shared it.

All Knew Secret
The whole family, including the Nugents and Robb, went to St. David's Episcopal Church in Austin, Tex., Sunday morning. They all knew the secret then, since Robb had given Lynda an engagement ring Saturday night—a center diamond flanked by two smaller diamonds.

Strike Halts Long Island Commuters

NEW YORK (AP) — Engineers staged a wildcat work stoppage against the Long Island Rail Road today, all but halting service on the nation's busiest commuter railroad and turning Long Island into what one policeman described as "one big parking lot."

Normally about 200 trains haul 90,000 commuters from Long Island into Manhattan, Brooklyn and Queens between 5 a.m. and 9 a.m., and out again at the evening rush hour. In addition, the railroad carries another 80,000 riders during the nonrush-hour period.

Fewer than 20 trains operated this morning, and a railroad spokesman said things probably wouldn't be any better in the evening. "We are going into court for an injunction," he said "but you can't get a railroad moving again on such short notice."

Firm Bids Low At Bear Creek

Mantin Brothers Get Sidewalk Job Along State 76

BEAR CREEK — Mantin Brothers of Clintonville were the successful bidders for the contract to install new sidewalks along Willow Street on State 76, the village board has decided.

The firm bid 32 cents per square foot or $1.48 per lineal foot. The sidewalk will extend from Grace Lutheran Church to the railroad tracks.

Other bidders were Sommers Construction Co., Shiocton; Leonard Heling, Clintonville; Klitzke and Felton, Black Creek; and Landwehr, Inc., Appleton.

The board decided to assess property owners $1 per lineal foot where sidewalks had been removed during construction on the road and $1.48 per lineal foot on those properties which never had a sidewalk.

The assessment may be paid in a lump sum or in 20 annual payments at 6 per cent interest. The money will be borrowed from the state trust fund.

The cost of curb and gutter levied against property owners on the street is $2.80 per lineal foot.

Annual New London Event

Market Day, Fair Draws Big Crowd

NEW LONDON — A large crowd was attracted for the annual Farm Market Day and Street Fair Saturday as a bright, cool day welcomed visitors.

Persons offering a wide selection of animals, vegetables and handiwork for sale converged on the Dauterman parking lot early in the morning and by noon several had sold their entire stock.

A first at the street fair was the offering of a young goat for sale. Ducklings, rabbits, puppies, chickens and kittens were among sale items.

Judging of the produce and handiwork items was done by Mrs. Evelyn Suoni, Elmer Paul and Thomas Black.

Jaycettes sold pie and ice cream and the Methodist Church had a food stand set up for the fair.

Merchants were kept busy hauling items out of stock for sale on sidewalks, as buyers and shoppers milled about on the streets.

Judge Asked to Drop Hearing

Petition Objects to Transfer for Juveniles Involved in Burglary

Maintaining that Outagamie County Court Branch 1 "lacks jurisdiction," Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer Friday afternoon asked the court to set aside a hearing ordered for Sept. 18 for two 17-year-old Appleton youths whose constitutional rights allegedly were violated because they were held in juvenile detention for five days before being brought into court.

Judge Urban P. Van Susteren had set the hearing date Thursday afternoon, after an attorney for Jack C. Meyer, 711 E. Dennison St., and James L. Satorius, 1209 N. Morrison St., asked for dismissal of burglary charges on grounds that the youths had been denied due process of law.

Burglary Charge Meyer and Satorius were charged with the July 8 burglary of the S. C. Shannon Co. warehouse at 1726 N. Ballard Road.

Schaefer, in his written petition, said "the court would be acting in excess of its authority" in entertaining the motion brought by the attorney.

The youths were waived from juvenile court jurisdiction by County Judge Raymond P. Dohr. Schaefer contended that "Court Branch 1 does not have review power over acts and orders of Branch 3 (Juvenile Court) and therefore lacks jurisdiction in the defense motion."

The matter properly could be appealed to Circuit Court, not another branch of County Court, Schaefer maintained.

Patrolman Post Still Open at New London

NEW LONDON — Three men have submitted applications to the Police and Fire Commission for a position as patrolman. Police Chief Jack Algiers has announced.

Algiers said the commission is still seeking applicants for the $375-a-month job. Candidates must be high school graduates between 21 and 35 years old, and in good health. They must pass a written and medical examination.

No closing date has been announced for applications. The new patrolman will replace Willard F. Groat who retired last month after 20 years in the department.

Damages Set at $250 in Accident Near Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — No personal injuries resulted from a two-vehicle collision at 6:40 a.m. Friday, 5 miles north of Clintonville at the intersection of U.S. 45 and Knitt Road. Estimated combined property damages were $250.

Herman O. Kersten, 32, route 1, Iola, was traveling south on U.S. 45 when June M. Suprise, 38, route 3, Clintonville, pulled out in front of him. Kersten stated that he applied his brakes but was unable to stop. Mrs. Suprise was issued a citation for failure to yield from a stop sign.

Patrolman Ben Piskorn of the Waupaca County traffic police investigated the accident. Damages to Kersten's 1965 station wagon were estimated at $150, and $100 to the 1962 sedan driven by Mrs. Suprise.

She was arrested by the Clintonville police on Aug. 29 and was given until last Thursday to pay the fine and costs.

Participation Skyrockets in August In Surplus Commodities Program

NEW LONDON — Participation in the surplus commodities program handled by United Counties Distributors (UCD) for nine area county welfare departments increased sharply during August, and poundage hit a 15-month high.

The total of 117,281 pounds, the largest amount since May 1966, was distributed to 6,664 low-income persons. The number of participants in the U.S. Department of Agriculture program was the largest since March 1967 when 6,806 people took part.

Yearly totals for the program climbed to 50,181 participants and a total of 821,096 pounds. Participation increased in every county except Waushara, where an influx of migrant labor in July had more than doubled the program in that month.

Participation dropped 81 persons in August, to 504, while poundage was off only one pound, to 9,315.

Readfield, McKinley On Agenda

NEW LONDON — The need to meet pressing demands for more classrooms will prompt the school board Tuesday night to discuss adding to the Readfield School or replacing the McKinley School.

The board has engaged Edgely A. Steubenrauch and Associates, Sheboygan, to prepare plans for an addition to the Readfield School. The architectural firm has submitted preliminary sketches of a floor plan and an artist's concept of the building design to the board.

Two plans, one a rectangular addition and the other a circular addition, have been submitted. The circular addition would increase the K-6 facility by 13,166 square feet while the rectangular addition would add 12,155 square feet. Both would add eight teaching stations to the present facility.

While replacing of the McKinley School hasn't been a matter of serious discussion, board members have been studying the problems facing the district in maintaining the 57-year-old five-room facility.

A common problem facing both schools is a steadily increasing school-age population. Readfield is on the fringe of the rapidly growing suburban Appleton area, while McKinley must service a less rapid, but steady increase of school-age children in the New London area.

The board of education looking ahead to the need for additional classroom space, has been collecting money at the rate of $1 per $1,000 equalized valuation for the building program. By using this method taxpayers will be protected against an increase in the tax rate when the building is undertaken.

Supt. H. James Ramsdell said the elementary grades within the city should reach the capacity of existing buildings within a four years "By planning ahead we can avoid an emergency license, pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs of $6.70."

Historic Parish Meeting Wednesday

Aging Seymour Church Future on Line

SEYMOUR — One of the community's older homes which has served an ever growing family since the turn of the century may be retired.

Parishoners of St. John the Baptist Catholic Church here, will gather for an historic conclave Wednesday evening in the school hall to decide the future fate of the 67-year-old edifice.

Of further significance is the presence of a new pastor, the Rev. Richard Schaefer, former pastor at St. Mary in Menasha. If parishoners favor a new church for the future, architects would be contacted to begin preliminary planning. Their findings would be presented to another parish conclave later.

The parish traces its origins to 1874 when the first church was completed. The mission was served by the Rev. Charles Beyerly of Duck Creek and the Rev. N. A. Buschle of Mackville the first two years until the first pastor was named.

Chapel-Convant The Rev. Roman Scholter, assistant pastor at the Green Bay Cathedral, began commuting here twice monthly in December 1875 and later established residency here when a room was added to the church for his rectory. A school was added in 1876 and staffed by Ursuline nuns.

Later, School Sisters of Notre Dame took charge of the school. Some of the 75 pupils were day scholars and others were boarders. The first mass in the combination chapel-convent was offered on Christmas 1876. The nuns purchased the school from the parish for $1,700.

The Rev. M. A. Koetz replaced Father Scholter who was transferred to Mackville. He was later killed in a horse and buggy accident while riding with the then Father Fox who later became bishop of the diocese. The Rev. M. Schoell and the Rev. Leo Pecinski succeeded the deceased pastor.

Meanwhile, the parish school was floundering financially and teaching sisters were not available. At the request of the Mother of the Notre Dame Sisters the parish repurchased the school and grounds. The sisters left and in 1886 the school was closed. The building was used as a rectory and parish hall.

From 1887 to 1895 five pastors served the parish. They were the Rev. A. Kristan, the Rev. J. Gesal, the Rev. J. A. Bourgeois and the Rev. Joseph Hemmer. It was Father Hemmer's first parish.

The parish grew from 25 families in 1874 to about 40 by 1895. The pastor also serviced missions at Isaar and West Freedom. The latter church no longer exists although a cemetery still marks the site.

The Rev. James Bastian, named pastor in 1895, was assigned the task of building a new church, the present edifice. The stately stone structure was completed in 1900. He serviced missions in Isaar, Black Creek and Shiocton and in 1908 was transferred to Chilton.

The present rectory was built in 1910 for $8,000 on the old schoolhouse site during the pastorate of the Rev. Joseph Roder. Isaar and Black Creek were no longer missions after the Rev. R. J. Fox was named pastor at Seymour, but ironically when he left to become an Army chaplain the parish became a mission of one of its earlier children.

Due to the shortage of priests the Rev. John Alt from Isaar filled the gap followed in order by the Rev. P. J. Grosnick and the Rev. R. H. MacDonald. The church hall was excavated, decorated and completed before the Rev. Peter Zey arrived in 1929.

He started raising funds for the future parish school which was built in 1938. The old Lotter home and grounds were purchased as a convent for the teaching nuns. Due to ill health he was given an extended leave of absence and the Rev. Joseph Barthelme was named his replacement in 1939.

Debt Cleared

The Rev. Adam Grill, now a monsignor and pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church in Appleton, took over in 1940. The parish school had 80 pupils. The parish grew from 150 to 250 families in a decade.

During his pastorate the old debt was cleared in 1947 and as enrollment climbed in the school to 145 another classroom was to the convent in 1949. Three acres adjoining the church property were purchased and several other acres added to the cemetery.

When Father Grill was transferred to Appleton the Rev. Joseph Labno was named pastor and remained here until this summer. During his pastorate a new wing of 3 classrooms and conference rooms were added to the parish school and a new convent with chapel constructed for the Franciscan teaching nuns.

Five nuns and three lay teachers now staff the parish school. Father Schaefer, former pastor at St. Mary, Menasha, and athletic director at the high school there, is assisted by the Rev. Milton Suess, an instructor, at Sacred Heart Seminary at Oneida.

Paid Admissions Decline

Season Attendance Up At New London Pool

NEW LONDON — Use of the Hatten Park Pool increased by about 5,000 persons although paid admissions were down about 1,000 from 1966, M. John Huppler, recreation director, announced today.

Huppler said a large number of youngsters used the pool during the summer, given two or three times as many admissions as the previous year. He termed the swimming season as poor because of the unseasonably cold weather.

Only the August paid swimming admissions were better in week made up the difference as 1967 than the previous year, he said. Huppler said non-insured

Scouts Ask Sponsor at Bear Creek

BEAR CREEK — District Executive Douglas M. Brown of the Valley Boy Scout Council will appear before the village board Monday, Oct. 2, to request that the village sponsor its local Boy Scout Troop 65.

Village President Leonard Lisbeth said he favors sponsoring the troop for the coming year and allowing them the complete use of the village hall for their meetings and appointing sufficient personnel including an institutional representative to comply with the national and local charter requirements.

In the past the troop was sponsored by the Bear Creek Voluntary Firemen Association. Brown stated that if the village board sponsors the troop, approximately six adult men would be needed to advise the land owned by the Homme unit. Cost for membership in the Homme for Boys here.

South African Security Law Applied Without Hearing, Trial

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE
Associated Press Writer

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Soon Helen Joseph may be able to take an evening stroll through Johannesburg. Her five years of restriction under South Africa's security laws are up in October, and if the law is lenient she will again be able to go to church on Sunday.

Mrs. Joseph was the first white woman banned under this country's Suppression of Communism Law. Without trial it can leave people in a twilight of existence.

Since October 1962 Mrs. Joseph has had to stay home every week day from 6:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. On weekends she can not step outside her front gate from 2:30 p.m. Saturday until 6:30 a.m. Monday. She must spend all holidays alone.

At no time may friends visit her small suburban villa. She cannot talk to the press or be quoted attending any meeting or take a weekend trip to the country. She must sign in at a police station every week day.

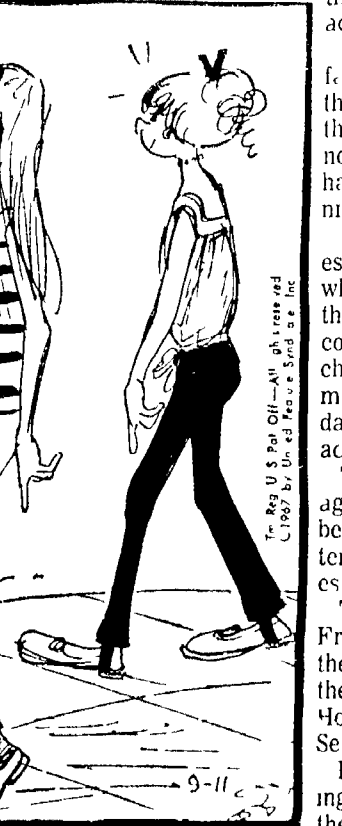

She was never tried by judge or jury, and the government gives no reasons when it imposes such restrictions. Officially the restrictions are aimed at eradication of communism, but critics accuse the law of seeing little difference between diehard communists and others who simply seek more freedom for this country's 12 million segregated blacks.

Those confined to their homes for 12 hours every night can be reached only by telephone, and there is sometimes fear in their voices when they answer. They dare not discuss any aspect of their banned life, lest this contravene terms of the banning order and result in a court appearance.

More than 600 persons have been banned, and the list grows. A banning order was served last month on Dr. Raymond Hoffenberg, whose research in glandular disease has brought him acclaim at 6:30 p.m. are intended for high school teachers from the northern part of the Fox River Valley. Three credit hours will be given by WSU.

poses apartheid, the separation of races policy the government invokes and was associated with the now banned Defense and Aid Fund which assisted political prisoners.

About 100 persons have quit the country under one way permits rather than face years of restricted liberty.

Last June the Rt. Rev. Ed. Clowther, Anglican bishop of Kimberley, was hustled out of the country by security officers. An American citizen, he had angered the government by using his pulpit to criticize racial laws and practices.

Author Alan Paton's passport has been withdrawn but he remains comparatively free. His Liberal party small and ineffective has lost many of its members to banning.

Ex-chief Albert Lutuli, who won a Nobel Peace Prize, spent his last years restricted to his home in a small sugar cane plot near Durban. When he was killed recently by a train, Paton commented: "We shall never shed for their political beliefs."

Appleton District Ranks Low in 1966 State School Aids

Reimbursement of $697,971
Based on General Property Value

Appleton's public school district ranked near the bottom of the list of major Fox Valley Wisconsin Municipalities in receipt of state aids for education applying to 1966.

The disclosure was made to the only other city of comparable size with a lower figure was Manitowish, with $486,000.

Green Bay Leads
Green Bay led the Valley with $1,146,676, followed by Sheboygan with $1,057,630.

Aids are allocated on the basis of the municipality's full value of general property tax within the school district. In Appleton's case, the district is composed of the City of Appleton, a good share of Grand Chute and parts of the towns of Harrison, Black River, and Menasha.

Total money allocated to the school districts is the sum of equalization and flat aids, transportation, driver education, tuition and handicap aids.

Top Appleton
Other cities topping Appleton's total were Oshkosh with $997,610 and Fond du Lac, $721,198.

The report showed Menasha received $442,570, Neenah $368,916 and Kaukauna $130,923. Totals from other communities in the region were: Shawano $176,940, Kimberly $73,300, New London $214,260, Little Chute $2,908, Clintonville $129,920, Waupaca $156,209, and Chilton $35,177.
